tutional Rights.

ALCORN DENIES WILEY'S CHARGES

Counsel Expected To File Appeal for New Trial on Basis of New Evidence.

New Haven, Conn., March 29.—Gerald Chapman's petition for a writ of habeas corpus was lost by his attorneys Monday afternoon. Judge Thomas denied the application of the bandit, who is scheduled to hang April 6 for the murder of a New Britain policeman and who now probably will ask for a new trial.

State's Attorney Hugh M. Alcorn, who obtained Chapman's conviction by a jury, was on hand to combat the latest of the last desperate moves of counsel to save Chapman's life. Ray M. Wiley, of Springfield, Mass., appeared for Chapman and engaged in a verbal clash with Alcorn.

The court was asked for a writ on the ground that arbitrary acts of state and federal courts had deprived Chapman of constitutional rights. Wiley complained that Chapman was taken from the federal penitentiary without a hearing and without being notified and that later he was rushed into the Connecticut courts without a chance to obtain counsel and forced to plead guilty.

"That's false!" Alcorn shouted at this point. Judge Thomas quieted the lawyers and soon afterward denied the motion for a writ.

The next attempt to save Chapman from the looming gallows probably will develop in the superior court at Hartford Tuesday, where his counsel is expected to ask for a new trial on the ground of new evidence.

After Judge Thomas had denied the motion for the writ of habeas corpus, Attorney Wiley arose and offered to elicit more cases from the supreme court records in support of his application.
He was waved aside. Wiley then told the judge that Chapman was entitled to an appeal from the denial and that pending the hearing of the appeal his execution should be stayed. He asked for a court order.

Alcorn jumped up and shouted:
"That is simply a trick. I see no necessity for an appeal, or stay. It would merely start another fight over jurisdiction."

Judge Thomas then told Wiley that he had denied the motion and "that ends the case as far as this court is concerned."

Wiley was plainly in despair, but said that all hope was not gone and that the moves in the state court would probably be made at once.

Only a small crowd was on hand at the hearing which was enlivened by the bitter clashes between Wiley and Alcorn.

Thousands Throng to Constitution's Nine "Homes Beautiful"

Is Atlanta a city of home-lovers and Constitution readers? We'll say it is. As proof of the fact, look at the throngs in the above pictures attracted Sunday and Monday to the nine "Homes Beautiful" in various sections of the city sponsored by The Constitution as an annual exhibit of ideal living conditions and surroundings. At upper left is shown a stream of visitors pouring in and out of the home at 118 Sherwood drive, Morningside. Upper right, long lines of automobiles that carried visitors to the home at 44 Wakefield drive, Brookwood Hills. Left center, another little traffic jam at 3 Berkley drive, Avondale Estates. Lower left, parking space at a premium around the home at 5 Avondale road in Avondale Estates, and lower right, more interested visitors thronging to the home at 215 Bolling road in Garden Hills.

GEORGE L. REMUS FIGHTS TO REGAIN WHISKY PERMITS

Cleveland, March 29.—(AP)—George L. Remus, of Cincinnati, arrived here today to see about recovery of $250-000 in government whisky permits, now said to be in the possession of M. J. Hinkel, sportsman and automobile dealer.

Remus enjoined Hinkel from selling the certificates recently on the claim that his wife and Franklin L. Dodge, former dry agent had taken them from him illegally.

Remus claimed the whisky permits he wanted to get back were only a small portion of his property which his wife appropriated during his incarceration.

DR. W. C. JARNAGIN SUCCUMBS HERE

Prominent Physician and Head of Atlanta Hospital for Many Years Passes Away.

Dr. W. C. Jarnagin, 74, of 682 West Peachtree street, prominent Atlanta physician and surgeon for the past 45 years, and head of the Atlanta hospital for the past 19 years, died Monday night at 9 o'clock at the Atlanta hospital, after a long illness.

Dr. Jarnagin was active in medical society work in Atlanta and was known throughout the southern states.
Despite his advanced age, he was active in his profession until a year ago when he was forced to retire from active practice. He then devoted his time to the development of the hospital in which he died, while serving as president of the board of directors.

Came Here in Eighties.
Born in Macon, Miss., August 28,
1852, the son of Judge and Mrs.
Hampton Lee Jarnagin, he attended common school and later attended the University of Mississippi for two years before entering the University of Virginia where he graduated in medicine in 1872. Following his graduation Dr. Jarnagin went to New York and continued his study of medicine for several years.

After completing courses in New York, he came to Atlanta in the early eighties and opened up an office adjoining the law offices of former President Woodrow Wilson, at the corner of Broad and Marietta streets and Mr. Wilson was his first business acquaintance after moving to

Constitution's Publicity "HOME BEAUTIFUL" CROWDS IMPRESS BUSINESS MEN Power Praised by Leaders

The Constitution's unparalleled feat in bringing out the stupendous number of 55,000 visitors to the nine model homes displayed in the "Home Beautiful" exhibit Sunday was the subject of highest praise Monday by business leaders of the city who declared that they did not believe before that any such achievement was possible.

W. H. Brittain, head of J. M. High company, said he was astounded at the "pulling power" of The Constitution in bringing out such an enormous crowd of keenly interested citizens of Atlanta and Georgia to see this year's "home beautiful" exhibit presented in five popular Atlanta developments.

"The unqualified success of The Constitution in drawing such an as-tonishingly large number of people to the 'home beautiful' exhibit was a most remarkable thing in many respects," Mr. Brittain said. "The achievement of The Constitution in drawing such an enormous number of genuinely interested home-building people I think was really wonderful.
I made the rounds of the nine homes in the display Sunday and several times I had to return to a house to gain admission because of the large crowds."

Another enthusiast who praised the success of The Constitution and the pulling power of this newspaper is G.
F. Willis, head of the Avondale Estates, who expressed amazement at the large number of people who visited Avondale Sunday afternoon.

"Frankly I was astonished," Mr.
Willis said. "While I long have recognized the pulling power of The Constitution and its far reaching circulation, there were easily more than 25,000 people visiting in Avondale Sunday and they represented virtually every activity in life. The people were keenly interested in homes, too, and I think this is one of the finest things The Constitution has done. We are much gratified over our share in the event and feel sure it has stimulated the desire in numerous people to obtain homes in Atlanta and become permanent citizens here."

Expert opinion as to The Constitution's penetrating circulation and its
"pulling power" was furnished by R.
H. Thomas, of Richmond, Va., director of the displays, who has presented "Home Beautiful" exhibits in many of the leading cities of the United States.
"The Constitution's show is beyond doubt the most successful I have ever seen, and this newspaper draws more visitors to the displays, according to population figures of the city, than any newspaper ever conducting such a display with which I was connected,"
Mr. Thomas said.

"In the large and prosperous cities of the north, many of them having two and three times the population of Atlanta, they have given 'Home Beautiful' shows and failed to draw anything like the number of people who visited the displays Sunday. There were at least 20,000 more people at the exhibits Sunday than attended the display last year."

"Success or failure of such a series of exhibits depends almost entirely on the newspaper conducting the event, and the marvelous success of Sunday is direct and convincing evidence that The Constitution reaches the people, all the people, all the time."

Arthur Burdette, of the Burdette Realty company, a leading developer, expressed keen satisfaction over the success of The Constitution exhibit, and declared the promotion of the Home Beautiful exhibits was one of the finest things this newspaper ever did.

"The Constitution certainly brought

DEMOCRATS FIGHT DEBT AGREEMENT MADE WITH ITALY

Melee of Monday Indicates That Majority of Democrats Will Vote Against Ratification.

MUSSOLINI HIT BY PARTY LEADER

Robinson Declares Subject Should Be Investigated More Thoroughly Before Vote Is Taken.

BY THOMAS L. STOKES
Washington, March 29.—The opposition to the Italian debt settlement warmed up to its work Monday, and the cross-fire of debate indicated strongly that the administration will not secure ratification so easily as was first thought.

Democrats failed several weeks ago in their efforts to unite in opposing the settlement, but it appeared after the melee Monday that a majority of them will vote against it. They were given their cue by their floor leader, Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, who has led a number of his colleagues on at least two major questions to join with republicans.

He pointed the other way Monday, opening the fight against the settlement made with Italy, attacking Mussolini, and advising that the subject should be investigated more thoroughly. The senate, he said, knows nothing about the Italian pact.

The major points of his attack were carried on by Senator Reed, Missouri democrat, who not only demanded further investigation, but presented a resolution authorizing the foreign relations committee to make an intensive study of all foreign debts, which would include the ability of every European nation to pay its debt, what private loans had been made by American bankers and upon what terms and what propaganda organizations are working in this country to influence public opinion.

Reed seeks action.
Reed demanded immediate adoption of his resolution, but Senator Smoot, of Utah, chairman of the finance committee, objected and it went over under the rules.

The Missouri senator spared no words in his attack on Mussolini, using all his well-known powers of sarcasm and invective. It is evident that the premier of Italy will hear little good of himself in reports that come from this side of the water in the next few days.

"The peace of Europe is menaced every hour by this Italian dictator and the armed mob supporting him," Reed declared.

"The statements of this man Mussolini who has overthrown his own government and refuses to recognize any political party except that of the Italian Ku Klux Klan has a sinister meaning. To such a man we are asked to repudiate the Italian debt.
The Italian settlement is a practical repudiation of three-fourths of the debt and bears no similarity to the British settlement."

"I want the facts, not the conclusions, of our debt-funding commission.
No human being can look into the future 62 years and tell what the capacity of Italy or any other country to pay her debts will be."
The same phase was stressed by Robinson, who said the capacity to pay theory upon which the Italian agreement was founded was a false standard and impossible of ascertainment when made a basis for 62-year payments.

BEER WITH "KICK" WILL BE PLACED ON MARKET SOON

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
Washington, March 29.—People who claim life will be much more endurable for them if they can get beer with a pronounced kick are to be accommodated by a friendly government and the prohibition department. Permission has been granted the Anheuser-Busch company of St. Louis and the Pabst company, of Milwaukee, to manufacture a malt liquor containing 3.76 per cent alcohol by volume and 25 per cent malt solids. This beverage will be sold to the public in limited quantities through drug stores without prescriptions or dealer permits.

Both these breweries sought to manufacture such beverages following passage of the Volstead law, but were prevented from so doing. Now, it is understood, these manufacturers have written to wholesalers announcing they soon will have, subject to orders, old "malt extract" containing 3.5 per cent alcohol and expressing the hope this product "will not find its way into illegitimate channels."

FAVORABLE ACTION BY VOTE OF 18 TO 7 FOLLOWS WRANGLE

Measure Amended To Provide That State's Share of Gas Tax Shall Retire Issue.

HEATED DEBATE MARKS MEETING

Bill Increasing Borrowing Power of Governor by $3,500,000 Also Is Given Approval.

By vote of 18 to 7, the bill providing for submission to the people of the $70,000,000 state road bond issue for construction of a hard-surfaced, county-sent-to-county-seat system of state highways was reported favorably by the house committee on constitutional amendments Monday afternoon. The bill, in the form in which it goes to the house, provides that the bonds shall be issued when and under such restrictions as future legislatures may provide.

The measure also provides that the state's revenue from the gasoline tax, or any other motive power for motor vehicles which may be used, less the 1 cent per gallon which now goes to the individual counties, shall be used for payment of interest on and retirement of the bonds. It provides that this revenue shall never be diverted for other purposes and that the rate of taxation shall not be reduced below its present rate of 4 cents per gallon.

The bill, as reported by the subcommittee, did not contain the provision dedicating the gas tax revenue to retirement of the bonds, but it was adopted overwhelmingly as an amendment when proposed by Representative Howard, of Chattanooga.

Debate Is Heated.
The committee meeting developed heated debate when opponents of the road bonds subjected speakers on their behalf to a running cross-fire of questions.

Charging that the Howard amendment was only intended as a "vote-catcher," Representative Martin, of Troup, asked Dr. Howard: "Do you think it fair to mislead the people?"
"My amendment is to save the people from being misled," Dr. Howard replied. "Anybody is fair to educate the ignorance of the state. The amendment is intended to set aside the arguments of ignorant people."

"Any school child who has learned enough arithmetic to figure rates of interest," Dr. Howard continued, "can prove irrefutably that the gasoline taxes will be ample to pay interest and retire the $70,000,000 of bonds, and that there cannot be any additional ad valorem taxes to meet them.
Those who don't understand that, either don't want to understand or are not mentally competent to understand a simple problem that any school child in the eleventh grade can easily explain."

Jones, of Meriwether, chairman of the committee, told how he had been opposed to the state road bond idea

COTTON GROWERS DISCUSS FARM BILL

Washington, March 29.—(AP)—As house hearings on the corn belt farm relief bill neared an end today, the senate agriculture committee discussed its provisions preliminary to examination of witnesses. Chairman Norris announced in the senate that congress would be called on to vote at this session on the crop surplus question. Promising that his committee would bring in a bill, the senator said that some of the measures thus far proposed meet with the approval of President Coolidge.

"I am told," he added, "that neither he nor the secretary of agriculture favours legislation on the farm surplus problem. They favor the cooperative bill and that's all."

Hold Night Session.

Senator Norris' statement was made after proponents of the corn belt bill had closed their case before the house agriculture committee, with S. H. Thompson, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, submitting the final statement in its behalf. The committee met tonight to begin a cross examination of the proposal's supporters.

Senator Smith, democrat, South Carolina, said the chief problem facing cooperative movements as well as agriculture in general was that of financing the surplus of various crops and cited sharp fluctuations in cotton. He added that to put "agriculture back on its feet" it would be necessary to reform the banking laws to make "wheat, cotton or cattle a bankable asset."

Southerners Arrive.

It was announced at the night session of the house committee that a number of prominent cotton growers of the south had reached Washington and were in conference over the bill. The committee was notified that they expected to reach a decision in a day or two at which time they would make known their stand.

This statement was made after Representative Williams, republican, Illinois, commented that the committee had heard nothing from the cotton interests. He asked Thompson whether the equalization fee on cotton should be left in the bill in view of their apparent lack of support.

Thompson replied that the delegation sponsoring the measure had considered assessing cotton if necessary to stabilize the price of the commodity, but had no disposition to force it on the south against its will.

Williams recalled also that southern members of the committee had declined the cotton men were opposed to the bill.

During the day, the committee had been notified by the farm bill of Iowa, one of the leading champions of the bill, that he would be unable to return for cross-examination as requested. He thought no good purpose would be served, as he already had made known his views to the committee.

At the outset of the discussion before the committee, Senator Capper, republican, Kansas, gave warning that American millers were making an organized effort to defeat the bill, which has been introduced by the committee of 22 from corn belt states.

Millers Protest.

He said he had received letters of protest from Kansas millers and had been informed millers in other states also were disturbed over the equalization fee measure.

Chester C. Davis, representing the committee of 22, assured the committee, however, that the proposal would not work to the disadvantage of American millers, and insisted the fee would be returned on all exports.

Concluding direct testimony before the house committee, Thompson explained that its object was "to secure a greater degree of stability the price levels of the principal cash crops."

"It is proposed to do this by placing at the disposal of the producers," he added, "a mechanism with the assistance of which they can control the handling and marketing of crop surpluses, thereby preventing violent price fluctuations and securing in domestic markets the price benefits of the import duties."

QUESTION RAISED

WHETHER SENATE CAN TRY ENGLISH

Washington, March 29.—(AP)—With the house about to decide whether Federal Judge George W. English of the eastern Illinois district should be impeached, the legal right of the senate to sit in special session as a court was raised today before the senate judiciary committee with a division of opinion developing.

After a lengthy discussion Chairman Cummins was authorized to appoint a subcommittee to inquire into the subject. It had been suggested that if impeachment were ordered by the house, the senate would be called into special session after congress had adjourned.

Some members of the senate committee recalled that a precedent for having the house in session during an impeachment trial was established in 1870 when impeachment proceedings were pending against Secretary of War Belknap.

The house expects to take up tomorrow the recommendations of its judiciary committee that Judge English should be moved from the bench.

673 NEW BAPTISTS ADDED IN REVIVALS

Leaders in the series of simultaneous revivals in more than fifty Atlanta Baptist churches Monday entered the third week of the city-wide evangelistic campaign with renewed enthusiasm, reports being made at Monday's mid-day committee meeting that 673 new members had been added to membership rolls of the various churches participating.

The following churches reported additions as the result of revivals during the past two weeks: First Baptist, 42; Druid Hills, 97; Oakland City, 24; Capitol View, 67; Inman Park, 31; West End, 68; Woodward avenue, 36; North Atlanta, 26; Lakewood Heights, 31; Gordon Street, 77; Edgewood, 3; Kirkwood, 75; Oakhurst, 2; Ponders Avenue, 30; College Park, 5; East Point, 7; Tabernacle, 4; First Baptist of Decatur, 4, and Jackson Hill, 4.

More than one thousand new members are expected before the campaign is brought to a close next Sunday.

Following reports from the various pastors Monday announcement was made that an "all-denominational closing-out" meeting would be held at the Baptist Tabernacle, corner Spring and Luckie streets, Sunday night, at which time reports will be heard from all churches. Special song services will be arranged.

Large congregations, forceful sermons and special musical programs featured meetings in the churches Monday night.

Noonday services at the Peachtree Arcade are attracting large numbers of Atlantans. Dr. W. A. Shelton, of Emory university, was the speaker Monday, on "The Temple Cleansed."

Annual Field Day For Barrow Schools Is Held at Statham

Winder, Ga., March 29.—(Special.) The annual field day for the schools of Barrow county was held Friday at Statham, Professor J. W. Williams, principal of the Statham school, being host. Judges were furnished by the Athens Y. M. C. A. under the direction of Dr. Jones, physical director.

The list included all the regular field day events except the pole vault, and was divided into two divisions, the first including the high school contestants and the second including the grammar school contestants.

The whole affair was under the personal supervision of W. M. Holmsenbeck, county superintendent, and a committee from the county teachers' association. Two cups which are to be held by the winning school for one year were competed for, and will be held by the winning school until the next field day event.

The four schools making the highest number of points in the athletic events were Statham, 65 points; Cook's consolidated school, 30.5 points; Bethlehem, 37 points, and Thompson's Mill, 17 points. This gives the athletic cup to Statham.

In the literary contest C. B. Morris of Bethlehem, won first place for high school boys in declamation, and Ruth Wall, of Statham, first place for high school girls; Lewis Crook, of Cook's consolidated school, won first place for grammar school boys, and Ossie Sue Malcolm won first place for grammar school girls. This gives the literary cup to Statham also and each of these winners will receive a special prize.

A special cup was given by Mrs. H. A. Carithers, of Winder, to the school of the county making the highest average in spelling in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, and this was won by Parrish school, with an average of 59.5 per cent. In this contest the children of the three grades were handled in one group and the general average for the group was counted.

$70,000,000 ROAD BOND BILL APPROVED

one year ago but had been converted. He said that he now admitted, "in all humility," that "his erroneous conservatism and that of others like him, had cost the state dear."

"If God permit," he said, "I am now inclined to undo my mistakes of the past."

Mr. Jones told how thousands of citizens in the north and east were eager to "leave their iceboxes of homes in the cold north" and come to Georgia, but added that "they don't want to abandon their good roads and good schools to come to a dead neighborhood."

Mr. Jones predicted the necessary abandonment of cotton as the only crop in many small Georgia communities and declared that "unless good roads and schools are provided to attract new citizens and bring industries to these counties, they will witness untold suffering in the future."

Representative Mann, of Glynn, referring to a statement made by former Governor John M. Slaton, before the committee, to the effect that the gasoline resources of the world would be exhausted in 14 years, read the report of the expert investigations of gasoline resources recently made to President Coolidge, which shows that there is an ample supply of crude oil to supply the world with gasoline for the next 100 years.

"I hold here a letter from the president of the only petroleum refinery in Georgia," said the Glynn representative, "and he tells me that only 35 per cent of the present output of crude oil is being refined for present use. Gasoline refineries are financed by the shrewdest business men in the country on a basis of 100 years of operation, and then a former governor of this state comes and tries to tell us that 14-year rot."

Unfavorable Report Defeated.

After almost unanimous adoption of the Howard amendment, a motion by Representative Stanford, of Lowndes, that the bill be reported unfavorably was voted down, 17 to 7. The motion favorably recommending the bill—made by Representative Dorris, of Crisp—was then put and carried.

Two other measures were favorably reported by the constitutional amendments committee at its Monday afternoon meeting. One, by Representative Stark, of Whitfield, increases the borrowing power of the governor by adding the right to borrow $3,500,000 for the purpose of prompt payment of school teachers only. This, the author of the bill said, is merely intended for passage in event the educational bond bill, now pending in the house, should not pass.

Another measure favorably reported was by Representative Humphrey, of Emanuel, adding a sentence to that clause of the state constitution which specifies for what purposes the state may levy taxes. The new clause reads "and to construct and maintain a system of highways." It was pointed out by the author that there now is no provision in the constitution for levy of gasoline or motor vehicle taxes or any taxes for road purposes, and that the constitutionality of the named taxes is seriously in doubt. Taxpayers, he said, had accepted the tax in order to get roads built, but he believed if anyone desired, it could be successfully attacked in the courts.

The amendment, intended to remedy this situation, was adopted without opposition.

Prior to the meeting of the constitutional amendments committee, the appropriations committee of the house, which is largely composed of the same personnel, met and disposed of several measures before it.

A bill by Representative Howard, of Chatham, providing for payment of Confederate pensions to widows of such pensioners as have died since passage of the pension scrip bill on August 25, 1925, was reported favorably. The question of the constitutionality of the bill was raised by Representative Barrett, of Stephens, who asked if state money would not be used for purposes not specified in the constitution. Dr. Howard and others argued that it was merely paying a debt already incurred by the state. Others took the view that the bill should apply to all pensioners who have died since 1919, when the increased pension bill was first passed.

A sharp fight arose over a bill to appropriate $25,000 to the Sixth District A. & M. school at Barnesville. At this amount, it specified that $15,000 was for new buildings and repairs to an existing building, and $10,000 was for enlarging and improving the academic building. The fight on the bill developed over the question as to whether it came under the provisions of the governor's call for the special session. Supporters of the measure, led by Representative Flynt, of Swain, wished to pass the bill and leave that question to the governor to decide when he came to sign it. Senator Collier, from the senatorial district in which the institution is located, concurred with Representative Flynt.

INGROWN NAIL

Turns Right Out Itself

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so touches the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night. —(adv.)

Big Land Grant Given Japanese In Mexico, Claim

Washington, March 20.—(AP)—The senate foreign relations committee was asked today by Senator Johnson, republican, California, to inquire into a 2,000,000-acre land grant on Magdalena Bay, Lower California, recently given by the Mexican government to a Mexican-Japanese syndicate.

Senator Johnson's request was submitted to Chairman Borah, who said he, too, wanted all the facts about the concessions.

Senator Borah previously had taken the matter up with state department, which as a result is expected to make inquiries as to the nature of the transaction.

Thus far, neither the department nor Senator Borah has any information except that contained in a recent newspaper dispatch from San Diego, Calif., saying the syndicate proposed to produce vegetable dyes and rubber.

The land involved long has been regarded as an immensely valuable naval base, however, and Senators Borah and Johnson believe all the information available should be obtained by the American government.

The San Diego dispatch did not mention the names of Senators Borah and Johnson until yesterday, and the state department had taken no interest in it until Borah asked department officials today what they had done about it.

The foreign relations chairman said that since the department knew nothing about the case, he saw no point in introducing a resolution calling on Secretary Kellogg for information.

If the customary state department procedure is followed, Ambassador Sheffield at Mexico City, will be asked to inquire informally at the Mexican foreign office regarding the grant, and report to Washington.

MEXICAN ENVOY DENIES LAND GRANT

Washington, March 20.—(AP)—Any report that the Mexican government had granted a concession to Japanese in Lower California was said by Mexican Ambassador Tolez today to be "perfectly absurd."

J. J. TANNER GETS SENTENCE OF LIFE

Wrightsville, Ga., March 20.—J. J. Tanner, tried here last week for murder in the death February 17, 1925, of G. A. Tarbutton, prominent farmer and banker, was found guilty of murder with recommendation of mercy by the jury early Monday and was sentenced to life in prison.

The case was given to the jury at midnight Saturday, but the jurors did not deliberate on Sunday. The verdict was reached soon after deliberation began Monday.

This was Tanner's second trial, the same verdict having been reached before.

Attorneys for Tanner filed a motion for a new trial immediately sentence was pronounced and Judge Earl Camp set May 15 as the date for the hearing. Tanner was put back in jail here. He received the sentence calmly and without comment.

Tanner was an overseer for Charles G. Rawlings, prominent Sandersville business man who was a partner of Tarbutton in extensive farm and business enterprises. Rawlings is now under life sentence in connection with the killing. At the time Tarbutton was shot dead, he, with Tanner and Rawlings, was out inspecting land near Ringjaw Bluff in Johnson county, for hauntsite deposits.

The three were proceeding along a field path down a hill, Tarbutton in front, followed by Tanner and Rawlings. The top of Tarbutton's head was practically shot off.

The defense in both the Tanner and Rawlings trials contended that Tanner stumbled and fired the gun accidentally, while the prosecution claims that Tanner was the agent of Rawlings in a plot to get rid of Tarbutton and collect large sums of insurance on Tanner's life which was carried to protect the Tarbutton-Rawlings enterprises. Some of the policies carried clauses providing for double indemnity in case of accidental death.

NEW WATER MAIN UP TO COMMITTEE

Proposal by Alderman Claud L. Ashley, chairman of the water committee, to install new 24-inch feeder water mains in the Virginia-Highland avenue section at once is awaiting approval of the water committee at its next meeting, Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Ashley stated Monday that he intends to ask the committee to authorize the mains, the cost to be defrayed by funds remaining from the 1921 bond issue and by the $500,000 which the recently-passed bond issue has made available. Although the latter amount is not expected to be available until 1927, Mr. Ashley says that approximately $200,000 remained unspent of the 1921 bond issue and could be used at once for mains instead of improvements at the river and Hemphill avenue pumping stations as originally planned by the department.

HOW TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Makes One Look Younger.

Men and women who used to be called Grandpa and Grandma are now setting the styles by darkening their gray hair at home.

For instance, J. A. McCrea, a well-known Californian, recently made the following statement:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture in five minutes, that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. Merely take a half-pint of water, add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and 1-4 ounce of glycerine.

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at trifling cost. Apply to the hair twice weekly with a comb. It does not color the scalp, is non-soluble or greasy and will not rub off."—(adv.)

Students Given Reduced Prices To Hear Ryman

Students in Atlanta's schools and colleges can obtain tickets to hear Paul Ryman, America's foremost lyric tenor, in concert Wednesday evening at city auditorium, for 50 cents, according to Mrs. John A. Perdue, president of the Atlanta Daughters of the Confederacy. These special tickets will be placed on sale this morning at Cable Piano company along with the others at regular concert prices, Mrs. Perdue stated.

The conclusion was made, she said, in compliance with hundreds of requests from school teachers and music teachers whose pupils were eager to hear the great tenor and have a part in freeing from debt the unique museum of southern history which the chapter has made of its chapter house.

Mr. Ryman is to sing a brilliant program of operatic and classic music balanced with a number of stirring southern songs and at least one composition by an Atlanta woman composer. Carl Bentel, American pianist and composer, will assist him in the concert.

VANDALS LIFT PARTS OF SIKORSKY AIRPLANE

Hundreds of Atlantans were disappointed Sunday after a trip to Candler field with the expectation of getting a ride in the giant Sikorsky "Macy Special" plane, when it was learned that vandals had removed a number of specially designed bolts and nuts and had substituted them with old bolts and nuts.

Captain Roscoe Turner, pilot of the plane, was working diligently early Sunday in an effort to put the plane in working condition, but it was found it will be useless for at least three days, until new motor parts arrive and can be replaced.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

Only a Buick Could Stand this Test!

In our showroom this week a Buick "Sealed Chassis" will undergo as severe a test as ever has been imposed on a motor car.

With the engine running and driving the wheels, a continuous shower of water will drench the "Sealed Chassis" twenty-four hours a day, to show how efficiently Buick performance is protected.

Only Buick provides the design which can undergo such punishment. Of all cars built today, Buick alone has the complete protection of the "Sealed Chassis" and "Triple Sealed Engine."

Every Buick operating part is "sealed" inside a dirt-tight, oil-tight, water-tight iron or steel housing. The "Triple Seal" (air cleaner, gasoline filter, oil filter) keeps dirt, grit and moisture out of the engine.

Road slush and grit cannot reach Buick vital parts. Rain and moisture cannot cause short circuits in the Buick electrical system. Even the spark plugs are protected!

Come in and see, with your own eyes, why Buick motor cars are more dependable. Only a Buick could stand the "shower bath" test!

MRS. FELTON VISITS CAPITAL TO ATTEND
LONG CEREMONIES

Washington, March 29.—The only woman who ever was a United States senator returned Monday to the seat she occupied for one day, and attracted attention momentarily from Senator Reed, of Missouri, who was denouncing the Italian debt settlement. Mrs. Rebecca Latimer Felton, of Georgia, was appointed for one day to the seat left vacant by the death of the late Senator Tom Watson, of Georgia. She is here for the unveiling of the statue in the capitol to Dr. Crawford W. Long, of Georgia, who is recognized generally as the first to use ether as an anesthetic for surgical operations.

SURPASSING SOUNDNESS

It is hard to tell the simple truth about the Chrysler Imperial "80" without appearing to overstress. Thus, it sounds almost incredible to say that in the Imperial "80" an old and proven engineering principle has yielded up unheard-of qualities. But it is a fact which half an hour's experience will prove. The 92 horsepower motor, for instance, delivers at long continued high speeds a steadiness hitherto unknown. This is just one of a score of new qualities which demonstrate the engineering and structural soundness of the car—a soundness of quality and workmanship which guarantee years and years of the unapproached satisfaction which only Chrysler can give.

Neill May Issue Announcement on Mileage Ruling

Speaker W. Cecil Neill, of the house of representatives, probably will make an announcement regarding the payment of mileage to members for the second extra session of the legislature for this year, which convened the day following the first session adjourned. Speaker Neill Monday informally indicated that he expected to take such action.

Since the decision of Judge John D. Humphries, of the Fulton superior court, Saturday that only those members who actually made the journey to and from their homes between the two sessions are entitled, under the terms of the state constitution, to draw mileage, together with the implication in a statement by the jurist that they could only legally draw sufficient to cover their actual traveling expenses, instead of the maximum of 10 cents per mile, as has been customary in the past. Some members are confused as to what they are entitled to.

It was pointed out, however, that while the constitution does specify they shall draw actual traveling expenses, "not to exceed 10 cents per mile," the appropriation bill each year carries the provision that they shall draw mileage "at the rate of 10 cents per mile." It was therefore contended that there is full statutory authority for drawing the full 10 cents per mile, regardless of actual traveling cost.

No move had been made Monday to seek a modification of Judge Humphries' ruling, a move which has been rumored as contemplated by several members.

GUARDSMEN PLANNING FOR SUMMER CAMP

With spring training getting under full swing in the 122nd infantry, a group of high officers is turning to training programs for the summer camp, tentatively set for July 4-18 with no little time being devoted to preparations for the regiment's participation in the Memorial day parade.

As the weather warms up and guardsmen are permitted to enter the streets, the vicinity of the auditorium armory is a scene of marked activity on Monday nights. Many squads went through paces Monday night both in the auditorium proper and in streets nearby, regular army instructors busy themselves to visit each group and personally inspect the work of each group.

Colonel J. M. Kimbrough and Captain R. B. Ennis, junior and senior instructors assigned the regiment, manifested special interest in the work and remained at the auditorium throughout the entire period.

CALHOUN FUNERAL

M. Patterson & Son. The Rev. C. W. Daniel will officiate and interment will be in West View cemetery.

Mr. Calhoun's death was attributed to cerebral meningitis. He was stricken Saturday and did not regain consciousness. He was the son of the late Colonel and Mrs. D. R. Calhoun, the latter having formerly been Miss Mary Frances Clark, of Eastman, Ga. He was a member of the Burns club, Atlanta Athletic club, Eastman (Ga.) lodge, F. & A. M.; B. P. O. E. No. 78, of Atlanta; Atlanta Shrine and Argonne Post No. 1 of the American legion.

Mr. Calhoun served with the Marine Flying corps No. 31 during the war.

He was a graduate of Mercer and Columbia universities and was said to have been the youngest man ever graduated from Columbia law school. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Emily Bealer Calhoun, and three-month-old daughter, and two brothers, E. H. Calhoun, of Atlanta, and E. C. Calhoun, of New York.

Summerville, Ga., March 29.—(Special.)—Having received his commission from Governor Clifford Walker and having the oath of office administered by Judge James Maddox, of the Rome circuit, J. DR. MORGAN AND SON RESIGN OHIO CHARGE

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 29.—(Special.)—Decision of Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, formerly of Athens, Ga., and his son, Rev. P. C. Morgan, internationally known ministers of the gospel and writers on Biblical topics, to withdraw from the pulpit of the fashionable and historic First Presbyterian church here will be discussed at a conference tomorrow with Dr. David McKinney, pastor emeritus and moderator of the church's session.

It is possible but hardly probable that Dr. Morgan and his son, who is associate pastor, may reconsider, it is understood.

They came here January 1, from Athens, Ga., for five months on a temporary basis. In a statement from the pulpit Sunday Dr. Morgan announced they would withdraw May 31.

He said he had concluded that his policies for expanding and developing the church's work are not approved entirely by the congregation, one of the largest and most important in America, partly because of financial considerations.

Dr. Morgan said there is no "split" in the congregation nor any ill-feeling. If Dr. Morgan retires May 31, he probably will visit England, where he preached formerly, for a few months. The son's plans are uncertain.

ODUM'S AUTOMOBILE STOLEN IN ABSENCE

James E. Odum, general agent of the Reliance Life Insurance company, Friday returned from Pittsburgh, where he attended a convention of agents of his concern, and discovered that thieves had taken advantage of his absence and made off with his automobile, a sedan of a popular make.

Mr. Odum left the car parked at his residence, 910 Piedmont avenue, he reported to police. Whether the thieves stole the car piecemeal or absconded with the entire machine at one time he was unable to say.

"I was gone 10 days," he explained, "and when I returned I could find no trace of the car."

PIPE SMOKERS STAGE

A musical entertainment was furnished by Misses Gladys Weeks, Ida Dallas and Virginia Hall. Brandon Berry assisted in the musical program.

Walker Elected To Membership
In Emory Club

Governor Clifford Walker, who will head the party of distinguished southerners to accompany the Emory University Glee club on its summer tour of Europe, was elected an honorary member of the college organization at a banquet Monday night in the Blackburn tea room, at which the chief executive was an honor guest. Membership also was conferred upon Dr. Harvey W. Cox, president of Emory.

The banquet was held for the purpose of discussing plans for the European trip which will be the first of its kind ever made by a southern glee club. It was announced that the club will sail from New York on June 12, following a farewell concert the preceding evening at the Waldorf-Astoria, and that the singers will spend the entire summer filling concert engagements in England and France.

Concerts, opening with a premier in Queen's hall, London, already have been booked up to September 1, according to James A. Dombrowsky, graduate manager.

Postponement of the club's farewell Atlanta concerts until May 20, 21 and 22, at the Atlanta theater, was announced at the banquet. The accompanying artist on this occasion will be Suzanne Keener, Metropolitan coloratura soprano. The club also will sing in Augusta and Savannah just before sailing from the latter point for New York.

THOUSANDS ATTEND COGGESHALL FUNERAL

Quincy, Ill., March 29.—(AP)—In a casket smothered with flowers, following services attended by thousands, the body of Ted Coggeshall, electrocuted at Joliet, Ill., last Thursday for the murder of W. T. Wright, superintendent of the Putnam county schools, was lowered to its last resting place in a small country cemetery near Clayton today.

No great was the throng in Clayton to attend the funeral that it was decided to hold the services in the park. Camp chairs were provided and a carpet spread over the section occupied by mourners. The bandstand was a huge pyramid of flowers, and an organ was brought from the Presbyterian church.

Rev. W. T. Munson, of the Rushville M. E. church, conducted the services. Pallbearers were former high school classmates. The procession from the park to the cemetery, a distance of 2 miles, covered almost the entire distance.

L. J. STEELE OPENS CONGRESS RACE

Fairburn, Ga., March 29.—(Special)—Attacking William D. Upshaw, incumbent, for what he termed "his hobby of prohibition speaking at the expense of his duties," L. J. Steele, prominent decatur attorney, opened his campaign for congress here today with a speech during the noon recess of Campbell superior court.

A crowd, estimated at 200 persons, mostly Campbell county farmers, heard Mr. Steele, who was introduced by Lawrence Camp, former representative from this county in the state legislature. Mayor Walter A. Sims, of Atlanta, and L. J. Burton, also candidates for congress, were present but did not speak. A delegation of DeKalb county supporters of Mr. Steele accompanied him to Fairburn.

Mr. Steele stated that he had all ways taken a definite stand upon all public questions during his many years of service in municipal and state affairs and that he would continue to do so. On the question of prohibition he stated here and now as plainly as I know how to say it that I am a prohibitionist," he said.

Mr. Upshaw makes prohibition speaking his sole hobby and devotes most of his time to that kind of activity. There are a number of other highly important matters affecting the welfare of the nation which also need serious attention," he declared.

Mr. Steele said the south was just now coming into its own and its farming, business, manufacturing and all other interests needed to be carefully looked after in congress. He stated that the race was between himself and Mr. Upshaw, and asserted that he expected to carry the county of DeKalb by an overwhelming majority and enough of the other counties of the district to insure his nomination.

Mr. Steele voiced opposition to the "tendency toward centralization of school control in Washington," defending the state's right to direct its own school system. He also advocated liberal federal appropriations to stamp out the boll weevil threat, and in this connection criticized Mr. Upshaw for "not being active in legislation on behalf of the southern farmer."

"Legislation in the interest of the wheat farmers of the northwest and of other sections of the country is now pending in congress," he said, "but there are no measures before that body aimed at relief or benefit of the southern farmer."

out the crowds in droves, clocks, regiments, caravans and almost every other way," Mr. Burdette said. "There were people at the exhibits from all parts of Georgia as well as from Atlanta, and they seemed to be keenly interested in home and home furnishings."

Duffee Enthusiastic.
Paul Duffee of the Duffee-Freeman Furniture company, was enthusiastic over the success of the displays, too. "Several surprises came to me from the displays," he said. "My first surprise was that a newspaper could attract so many people from one city to a display of model homes. My second surprise was the numerous comments I heard on the furnishings of these homes, all of them being commendatory. While it was expected that the people in the crowds would be interested in the beautiful homes, I was surprised that they showed equally as much interest in the furnishings. I think the event is a good thing for the city as a whole, and am sure it will stimulate in many people a desire not only to obtain better homes, but also to improve the furnishings in their present homes."

Five of the homes in the display are located in Avondale Estates and one each in Brookwood Hills, Garden Hills, Druid Hills and Morningside. All homes are furnished by leading Atlanta business firms, cooperating with The Constitution.

Mather Brothers Furnish Pretty 'Home Beautiful'

The furniture includes a Governor Winthrop desk, davenport and chair covered with coral-blue mohair, old tables and chairs. A plain chenille rug was made for the room.

HENRY FORD URGED TO MAKE NEW BID

Washington, March 29.—(AP)—Direct efforts to induce Henry Ford to make another bid for Muscle Shoals were made today when Representative Allgood, democrat, Alabama, requested him in a letter to submit another offer for the benefit of the farmers.

At the same time, the joint congressional committee authorized to negotiate a lease for the property heard representatives of the Union Carbide company, which is expected to make a bid, and the four cabinet officers, who met with the committee Saturday began the draft of the broad general terms of a proposed lease to guide the committee.

The Carbide company will be represented before the committee again tomorrow, when they are expected to present a formal proposal to lease the entire property at Muscle Shoals. Today's session was devoted to general discussion of the terms of the lease. The company was represented by F. M. Becket, vice president; L. H. Lee, A. C. Morrison and E. O'Shea.

Hooker to Discuss Plan

After the Carbide spokesmen are heard, W. B. Bell, of the American Cyanamide company, will go over a proposed lease which the company expects to submit and Earl H. Hooker, president of the Hooker Hydro-Electric company, will discuss his proposal to operate the property in partnership with the government.

The cabinet officers, including the secretaries of war, agriculture, interior and commerce, met with experts from the four departments and started the draft of the general terms, which the congressional committee expects to be delivered tomorrow. They will furnish the committee with a staff of experts and the cabinet officers themselves will meet with the committee as the leasing negotiations progress.

Declaring the people had confidence in his ability, Representative Allgood wrote Mr. Ford that he hoped and trusted he would make a bid. His letter follows:

Letter to Ford

"Having served as commissioner of agriculture before coming to congress and prior to that having been a cotton farmer, I can speak with authority on the question of fertilizers. With boll weevil infestation the cotton farmers must have nitrates in order to fertilize their cotton and nature of the plant before the cotton is attacked by boll weevil. This has placed an extra burden on the cotton farmers. The nitrates in Alabama alone amounts to 15 or 18 million dollars annually.

"The mortgages against farm lands have increased fourfold since 1920 and it is my contention that the farmers of this country are entitled to the production of fertilizers at Muscle Shoals to agriculture and from the monopoly with which they are now burdened by importers of Chilean nitrates. Your chemists testified before the agricultural committee during the last session of congress that fertilizers could be produced at Muscle Shoals and sold for one-half the cost which farmers are having to pay for fertilizers."

"Our people have confidence in your ability not only to develop this great property successfully, but to such a manner that thousands of farmers will also be helped."

"I do hope and trust that if you have not already done so, that you will submit an offer to the Muscle Shoals commission at this time."

Gadsden, Ala., March 29.—(Special)—The Louisville and Nashville railroad is removing the old 70-pound rails and replacing them with 90-pound rails on the track between Glenocoe and East Gadsden. When this work is finished, it is reported, the Alabama Mineral division from Anniston to Birmingham will be similarly repaired.

Enjoy Eating

If your blood is pure—You like to eat

REMEMBER how you used to come in from play hungry as a bear? Bet you could hardly wait until Dad filled your plate!

And didn't everything taste good? Seemed like you never would get enough. Didn't you feel good those days. Yes, they were the red blooded days.

Why isn't your appetite like that now? Why don't you like to eat just the same as you did in those days? Here's the reason—your system is simply starving for the lack of rich, red blood! You've lost your appetite because you've lost your red blood power. No red blood nourishment for the tissues of your body.

Build up your blood to where it is pure and red and rich and watch that appetite come back! S. S. S. is the way to do it! S. S. S. helps Nature build red-blood-cells—builds them by the millions!

You get hungry and you'll enjoy eating when S. S. S. helps Nature build pure red cells in that weak blood of yours. And you'll look better—your skin will be clear and unblemished—your flesh will become firm and solid—strength and power will come to your flabby muscles—you'll be yourself again.

S. S. S. will bring back the joy of eating—the joy of living! It's done it for thousands for generations. It's going to do it for you, too. Get S. S. S. at your druggist. The larger bottle is more economical.

Announcement of new French peace terms by Briand followed a vote in the chamber—ducing by one million francs the credits asked by the government for the Syrian campaign. This vote against the governmental policy was not considered as a non-confidence vote.

Plea of Briand

The need for ending the bloodshed in Syria and Morocco was further emphasized by the premier in his appeal to the deputies. The French government has the strongest desire to stop the bloodshed in Syria and Morocco," declared Premier Briand. "If we don't stop it now it would appear that cessation of hostilities in those districts is impossible. We have a duty to fulfill here. In July we told Abdel-Krim the conditions on which we would make peace. Since that time there have been movements toward separate peace with France and Spain. We must maintain our position in these troubled territories without us there would be a terrible conflagration there bringing massacre and misery to the people."

been to a marked degree, and the many electrical and mechanical conveniences and labor-saving devices of all kinds were subjected to closest scrutiny.

Attendance considerably lower than that of Sunday enabled special traffic officers on duty at the homes to regulate flow of traffic smoothly, and visitors were escorted through the homes promptly and afforded ample time to examine the many luxurious and beautiful appointments.

8,000 at Avondale

The five homes in beautiful Avondale Estates again led the attendance list Monday, with an estimated total of 8,000 people calling during the day and night.

The Lullwater road home was admired by approximately 3,800 persons, and Brookwood Hills was third with an estimated attendance of 2,700.

Hundreds of Atlantans Monday continued to visit the Garden Hills "Home Beautiful" at 215 Bolling road, after a record breaking crowd at the opening Sunday which completely exhausted the 5,000 souvenir carnations in the first two hours. It is estimated that the number of visitors who received no souvenirs was nearly twice the number provided.

In the Morningside home, 2,000 or more persons inspected the tasteful furnishings and appointments, and hostesses were kept busy explaining the many useful and beautiful things of which this and all of the other homes boast.

Public Is Invited

The nine "Home Beautiful" will be open daily through next Sunday between the hours of one in the afternoon and ten at night. The public is cordially invited to visit any or all of them.

The MAN at the WHEEL

His Duty · His Obligation · His Responsibility,

YOU . . . at the wheel are prone to say: "Nothing like that can happen to me—I'm always careful."

An hour later . . . care is relaxed for one brief moment . . . and through fate, ill-luck, whatever you may call it, you may lift from the path of your car the limp form of a little child—seriously injured.

What's to be done about it?

Constant watchfulness, making the wheel a job in itself and a highly responsible one; temperate speed; charitable concessions to pedestrians—who do the unexpected, always—these must be your unwritten laws, respected and inviolate.

It is the stern obligation of every driver to make the highways safe . . . to cut down the toll that follows in the swift wake of modern motoring.

"The Man at the Wheel"—a booklet that we feel will make the best driver a little bit better. May we send it to you? Fill out the form below, telephone or call at ships, hauled out their old varsity sweaters and came into their own today on the eve of the 1926 national interscholastic basketball tournament. Their word is law along the midway, where 40 of them are putting the finishing touches on their teams which each hopes will win the scholastic championship.

With the opening of the title play but 24 hours distant, the high school mentors today were making good use of the time which intervenes before the teams plunge into the first round of games to determine which 20 will meet in the second and, in rapidly decreasing number, the closing rounds of play.

Piles Disappear

No Cutting or Salves Used.
External treatments seldom cure Piles.
Nor do surgical operations.
The cause inside—bad circulation.
The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.
The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.
To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. S. Leonard, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription IHEM-ROD and tried it in 1,000 cases before he was satisfied. NOW IHEM-ROD is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Jacob's Drug Store, who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.

Helen in Debut
On Rome Courts

Rome, March 29.—(AP)—Miss Helen Wills made a favorable impression on her first exhibition on Italian courts today.

She lost a one-set exhibition match to a strong male player, Clemente Serventi, last year's Roman champion, at 7-5, but was avenged in a mixed doubles exhibition set when, paired with Giorgio de Stefani, she defeated Serventi and the Countess Giannuzzi, 6-4.

The matches were played at the exclusive Roman Tennis club, before a gallery consisting mostly of nobles and fashionable, and including a score of American divinity students in their roles and colorful sashes.

Helen's demure demeanor and her neat and graceful appearance on the court seemed to win the hearts of the princesses, duchesses, and countesses, and women of the diplomatic circle, all robed in the latest Paris modes.

She was off form in her brief test against Serventi, but had the satisfaction of forcing the set to deuce after he had piled up a 5-1 lead. Her brilliant returns drew much applause.

"I am having a wonderful time in Rome," she said after the exhibition. She will play again tomorrow.

CRITICS SAY "JACK RABBIT"
BASEBALL HAS VANISHED

McGraw Predicts More Scientific Game

New York, March 29.—(AP)—Critics of the major league baseball training camps forecast one radical change in the game this year as a result of defensive measures to curb the long bops of the "Jack Rabbit" ball.

From their observations of comparative pitching performances, they have found no indications that the new bag has increased the effectiveness of National league pitchers over hurlers in the American league, which voted against the return of the "foreign substance."

They do assert, however, that the epidemic of long hitting unquestionably has been checked by deadening of the ball. Emphasis on old methods of attack—hitting behind the runner, use of the sacrifice, and base stealing—is predicated on the basis of offensive measures already used in training camp contests.

GEORGIA TECH U. S. B., BOYS' FROSH NINE HIGH SCHOOL LOOKS GOOD ARE WINNERS

BY CARTER BARRON.
Around the Tech campus these days eyes of a big majority of the baseball bugs are on Coach Clay's 1926 entries for southern honors, and they should be, as the Yellow Jackets will bear plenty of watching this year. But these stars of tomorrow—the freshmen—also must be considered.

Coach Mendory this year has some prospects that certainly should fulfill the hopes of those who are wondering who is going to step into the shoes of Tom Angley, Bob Reeves and other members of this year's team.

Among the best looking of the lot is this boy Parham, the very same one who, even now, is threatening to succeed Doug Wyoff as Tech's best all-around athlete. Parham, already known through his gridiron exploits in spring practice this year and while performing on last season's yearling eleven, as well as through his ability to toss the shot put vast distances, is holding down the left field berth for the fresh baseballers, and looks as good there as he has in other lines of athletic endeavor.

Parham has been hitting the ball hard and often, and he has every appearance of a natural born infielder. In Waddy, who has been playing center field, Parham should have a good running mate on some future varsity team.

Dunnaway, a graduate of Richmond Military academy, looks extremely good at third. He is a good hitter, a fast, sure fielder, and possesses a good throwing arm. (Oiler) infield positions are being occupied by Wilson, star forward on the freshman basketball team, at first; Dempsey at second, and Smith, quarterback of the freshman football team, at short.

In the box, Coach Mendory is relying principally on Hill and Bates, a pair of porters who look like the best of the catchers.

Zupke Coming To Visit Tech

BY CARTER BARRON.
Robert C. Zupke, the famous football coach at the University of Illinois, will be a guest at Georgia Tech during the annual relay games this spring. It was disclosed Monday by Head Coach W. A. Alexander, of Tech. He will not be here in an official capacity, but will make the trip from Champaign, Ill., to witness the games, which are growing in interest each year.

Word has been received that the University of Indiana's relay team, which finished second in the Illinois university's indoor meet a short time ago, will be among the starters in the mile relay at Tech. Pepper, one of the greatest sprinters in the country, is a member of the Indiana team. Baylor school, of Chattanooga, and Tech High, Atlanta, will be represented in the half mile relay for high school and prep schools at the relays, their entries having been received Monday afternoon.

Because of past performances Baylor already has been installed as favorite in the event, although plenty of competition is assured. With last year's championship team back intact Baylor will present a quartet of runners that few colleges can equal. Last year the team set a mark of one minute 34.6 seconds for the distance, which is only a few seconds over the world's record.

Tech High, however, cannot be counted out this early in the game. In Cook and Waugh the Smithies have a pair who will compare favorably with any in the south and if teammates can be found who show as much class the Atlanta school will be very much in the running.

FORT TO SEE
GOOD BATTLES
IN RING CARD

The first boxing card of the season for Fort McPherson will be staged tonight at the post theater with 24 rounds of boxing carded as the attractions. In spite of the fact that Stanislaus Zhyzsko heads a group of stars at the city auditorium, Major Keely, matchmaker for the Twenty-second Infantry Athletic association, expects a good attendance.

The show will be opened with a four-round battle between Billy Pride, of Company F, Twenty-second infantry, and Bridges, of Fort Benning, Ga. They will meet at 150 pounds.

The second battle will bring together Mallard, of Company A, Twenty-second infantry, and Larson, of Fort Benning. They are scheduled for six rounds at 160 pounds.

The semi-windup is scheduled for six rounds at 164 pounds, featuring Kid Karst, a well-known local ringer, and Irish Patsy Corbett, of Anderson, S. C.

The main event is carded for eight rounds between K. O. Moore, also well known to Atlanta ring followers, and Johnnie Walker, of the Sixth United States cavalry. They will weigh 180 pounds.

This is by far the best boxing card ever arranged for the army post. Full approval of it has been given by the city boxing commission, although that step was not necessary in view of the fact that the fort is not a part of the city.

The bouts will be started at 8:30 o'clock. Women will be admitted free. Admission prices have been set at $1 and reserved seats at $1.50.

Honolulu Asks
Pitt Grid Game

Pittsburgh, March 29.—(AP)—The University of Pittsburgh has been asked to send its football team to Honolulu for a post-season game with the University of Hawaii on next New Year's day. This was made known today in a special dispatch to the Gazette-Times from Honolulu.

The Hawaiian offer, the dispatch said, carries with it a guarantee of $10,000 and full expenses for 20 players and officials during their stay in Honolulu.

What disposition of the offer will be made by Pitt athletic authorities was unknown today.

Wood and his mechanic, Joe Kany, were rescued. Miss Palm Beach, badly damaged, was towed into Havana harbor.

It's like this, Mr. Webb says: Orchard Knob, Northwest Atlanta Christians and Calvary are the only teams in the circuit, which, by rights, should be a six or eight-club league. By the process of deduction, two or four clubs are needed to complete the league.

Team managers may reach Mr. Webb by calling Franklin 1046.

Waller Beats Buchanan in Hurling Duel—Leads in Infield Defense Cost Oglethorpe Tossers the Game.

BY MARCUS BRYANT.

Athens, Ga., March 29.—(Special.)—Georgia pushed over the winning marker in the tenth inning today as the Bulldogs scored a 2-to-1 victory over the Oglethorpe Petrels in the first of a two-game series. "Shaky" Kain will oppose Hugh Buchanan in tomorrow's start.

Jack Waller got off to a bad start in the first inning, but from then on he mastered the situation well. Oglethorpe scored in the first inning, touching the delivery of Waller for three of their five hits in this frame, including a double.

But for erratic fielding of his mates, Thad Buchanan would have scored a 1-to-0 triumph over the Bulldogs. He let Georgia down with six hits, and was in danger upon only one occasion—the sixth inning. Neither of the Bulldogs' runs were earned, and the Petrel chunker hurled a nice array of ball. Terrell started the fireworks in the first inning when he led off with a single. Captain Wall sacrificed him to second. Boswell, next up, singled, scoring Terrell. Boswell was out attempting to steal second, and Shepherd doubled to right field. Cousins made the third out on a grounder to Richardson.

Georgia missed an excellent opportunity to score in the sixth inning. Satlof led off with a single and was sacrificed to second by Captain Richardson. Moore singled sharply over short, the hit drawing Wall back and Satlof, slow in getting off, was held at third. Middlebrooks then fanned, and Tully fled out to Boswell.

Oglethorpe's inner defense blew up in the eighth, when the Bulldogs knotted the score. Nolan Richardson, with one down, sent a roller to Shepherd.

Little Rock, Ark., March 29.—(AP)—Tommy Griffith, outfielder, last season with the Chicago Cubs, has accepted terms offered by Little Rock Southern association club, and it was stated today that he will report to the Travelers' Friday. All Except Zbyszko Reach City; Old Man Will Arrive Today

Three Splendid Wrestling Cards On Program Arranged For City Auditorium Ring Tonight By Promoter John Contos.

BY H. C. HAMILTON.

With all the wrestlers carded on the big program at the city auditorium tonight in town with the single exception of Stanislaus Zbyszko, everything is in readiness for the most interesting series of bouts to be staged here since John Contos attempted his first card here some time ago. Zbyszko wired Monday that he expected to reach the city early this morning, having left New York Monday.

The program will be opened with a one-hour limit match between Bill Lewis, the Savannah heavyweight, and the Masked Marvel, who has appeared here on other cards. Lewis will be remembered by wrestling fans for his rough match with Pat Kelly on the last wrestling program. He beat Kelly after a ferocious struggle which was almost stopped by the police. This bout will start at 8:30 o'clock.

The second bout of the night would be a main event on practically any program. It brings together "Tough Richard" Davis, the powerful and punishing heavyweight from California, and John Paxos, who was beaten by Stanislaus Zbyszko on "the old man's" first appearance in this city. Paxos is trained to the minute, is possessed of great strength and endurance and believes he has an excellent chance of beating Davis, who has wrestled the most prominent mat men in the country. This bout will be two falls out of three, with a limit of one hour.

Zbyszko Handicapped. The final match of the night features the grand old Pole, Zbyszko, three times heavyweight champion of the world, and Jim Londos, the hand-some Greek who has twice appeared in a local ring. Zbyszko, having developed an intense dislike for wrestlers of Greek descent, made his own terms for this match, promising to pin Londos twice within an hour or accept defeat as his part.

It is difficult to see how Zbyszko figures he can fulfill such a contract. Londos is one of the fastest and cleverest heavyweights in the ring, and, in spite of the fact that he is outweighted by about 30 pounds, possesses strength and endurance to withstand the famous Pole. At any rate, one of the most spectacular bouts ever seen probably will be staged. Londos is a master of the flying headlock, a hold almost as punishing as the flying mare, which Zbyszko employs to bring down his adversaries. The flying mare is a rather brutal hold, since it nearly always dazes the victim with one hold. Zbyszko's great strength gives him the advantage once he can clamp on such a hold, for it is practically impossible to break it.

Londos will have great difficulty in clamping a headlock on Zbyszko, especially one of the flying variety. The great strength of the old man and his ability to break such holds were well demonstrated when he net and defeated Paxos here. His tremendous shoulders, hunched, slide arms off his head as though the lock never had been established. Londos, however, will be forced to resort to some other kind of punishment to bring down the veteran, if indeed, he is able to accomplish that feat.

Glenna Reaches Pinehurst Finals

Pinehurst, N. C., March 29.—(AP)—Glenna Collett, national women's golf champion, fought her way to the finals in the north and south women's amateur tournament here today by easily defeating Miss Bernice Wall, Wisconsin champion, 6 and 4. Miss Louise Forde, of Youngstown, Ohio, won the right to meet Miss Collett by winning over Miss Helen Payson, Portland, Maine, at the 19th on a birdie 3.

Finals will be played tomorrow.

EX-CRACKERS TO PLAY HERE ON THURSDAY

When the Cleveland Indians open the professional baseball season here Thursday against the Toronto International, they will bring to Atlanta a team composed of the most part of familiar faces. The Indians probably have more men in their line-up who are well known here than any other team in the major leagues.

Toronto, too, is blessed, if you view it that way, with an unusual crop of players known to local fans. Luke Sewell, the first-string catcher of the Indians, is a former University of Alabama player, and has performed here both as an Indian and as a member of the Crimson Tide. Martin Arvey, his understudy, is a former Cracker, and last season played with the Vols.

Sherry Smith, one of the veteran pitchers, hails from Mansfield, Ga. Benny Karr is well remembered as one of the most popular of the Cracker pitchers of a few seasons ago. Joe Sewell, Indian shortstop, and generally considered one of the best in the American league, is brother to Luke and also a former University of Alabama star. He is a unique major leaguer in that he has never had any minor league experience.

Spoke to Lead Team.

Tris Speaker, manager, is, of course, the best-known player on the team. The great Texan is a real credit to the game, and his name will go down in history as one of the truly great players of all time. Fred Ehrhardt, Nashville's sensational young outfielder, of the 1925 campaign, also is a member of the Cleveland team, and at this time bids fair to play on one side of the brilliant Spoke.

Speaker actually believes, or so he has written friends, that he has a team which will finish well in the first division, and if he should get a few breaks, a team which will be a vital factor in the American league pennant race.

There have been several players who have thrilled the home folks. Lena Styles, another former University of Alabama collegian, but particularly known here because of his being a member of the 1919 Cracker team which won a Southern league championship with a great finish, is one of the catchers for the Leafs. The other is Steve O'Neill, a former major leaguer, and once a star with the Indians.

Georgia Star Here.

Claude Satterfield, former University of Georgia star, is also with the Leafs, as is Stewart, a former Baron southpaw who led the International league last year.

This game, as all others of the two weeks' exhibition schedule, will start at 2:30 o'clock. Regular admission prices will be in vogue, and tickets may be purchased at any of Stuart Murray's soda fountains and at Chess' place.

Following the Indian-Leaf game here Thursday afternoon will come the Yanks and Dodgers, sons of both the American and National leagues, for a two-game series. These games, too, will be played at Stuart Murray's at 2:30 o'clock. Tickets for the Yankee series will go on sale Tuesday morning at the above mentioned places.

Australian Champ Will Meet Nurni

Christ Church, New Zealand, March 29.—(AP)—The Australian champion runner, R. A. Rose, will be sent by the New Zealand amateur athletic association to meet Paavo Nurmi in the American championships in Philadelphia in July.

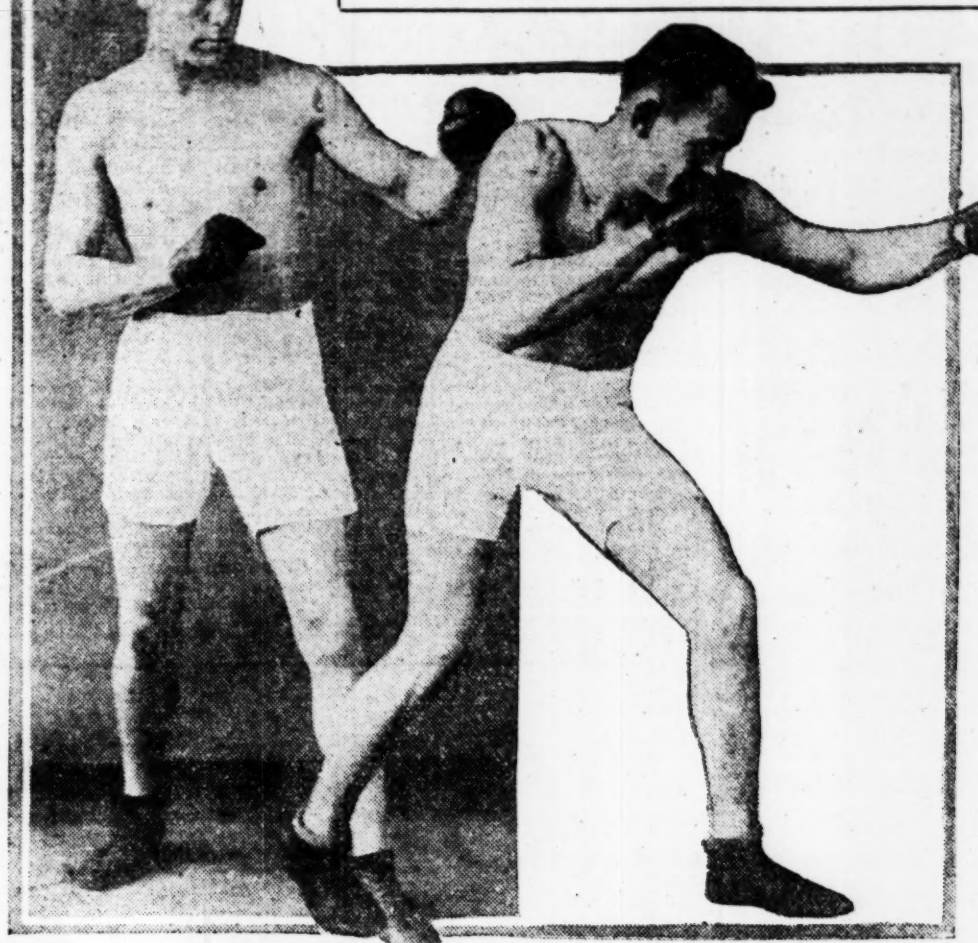

Rose will go to England to compete in the British championships if Nurmi is not competing in the American championships. The association stipulates that Rose must meet Nurmi before he returns home and if necessary he will visit Sweden to do so.

A man or a group of men with Rickard's uncanny ability as a promoter of prize fights, Harry Wills might stand a chance.

As it is, it looks as though he had better brush up on the steeplechase trade before he passes the age limit.

CHAPTER XI

Tournament activities were cut short in 1917 owing to the war. The United States Golf association decided not to hold either the national amateur or the open championship. However, the western championships were held, several prominent easterners being invited to take part in the amateur championship, which was won by Francis Ouimet. Of course in the open, as in other years, there were no sectional limitations, and the tournament that year was the nearest approach to a national championship. It was played at the Westmoreland Country club near Chicago, and I won with a total of 283, beating Walter Hagen by two strokes and Jock Hutchison by three.

This was my last year at White Marsh Valley. The next year I spent at the Broadmoor Golf club, of Colorado Springs, and as in the preceding year there was practically no tournament play. Following the engagement at Broadmoor, I moved to the Sunset Hill club, of St. Louis. This connection was made largely through the instrumentality of a good friend, Jesse Carleton, who has now passed on. In his death golf lost a staunch patron and advocate. He was one of the pioneers of the game in that section. Many is the time that we have sat and talked about the game as well as other matters, and never one of the conversations but benefited me in some way.

I represented the Sunset Hill club in the 1919 championship, which marked the resumption of play for the title after the war. It was played at the Brae-Burn Country club near Boston. With a lapse of two years between tournaments, naturally the championship that year was somewhat more "open" than usual. Chick Evans was defending the title he had won in 1916, and the field included practically all of the best professionals in the country as well as several very fine amateur players.

The championship was played the second week in June, and I had been playing well since early spring, and figured that with the advantage of more experience, I was about due to break through. But in fact, I finished 14 strokes behind like Brady and Walter Hagen, who tied for first place at the end of 22 holes. Like the saying of the old Scotchman—I just played good, useless golf all one way through. When I was hitting the ball well away from the tee, my approaches were not what they should have been, or else I was erratic in putting. Something was wrong all the time.

Luck in Partner.

Incidentally, in the first drawing, I had the luck to draw a player who had been out late the night before and had not fully recovered from the effects. I recall that on two holes alone, his count totaled 20 strokes. On the eighth hole, which is a one-shotter across a deep cavern, he topped his tee shot and the ball went bounding down among a great collection of loose stones. The time he had getting it out of there, was no experience to envy. Naturally enough, having to wait and watch him prospect around among these boulders with a niblick didn't help my own scoring any.

This experience brings up a matter which has often been discussed quite at length, namely, the question of whether the players in a big championship should be purposely paired or not.

Emory Freshmen Trim Theologues

BY SANDY CLOWER.

Emory University, March 29.—(Special.) Emory's freshmen (this afternoon won the opening game of the school's baseball season by defeating the Theologues, 7 to 5. Phillips, on the mound for the frosh, turned in a nice game, and but for poor support in spots would not have had to work so hard for victory.

Outs, on the other hand, was in trouble constantly, although some of his difficulties were brought about by erratic play of his backers. The freshmen took the lead early in the game, and clung to it slender margin all the way, although the Theologues always were within striking distance.

Phillips pitched the entire game for the winners, with Ware behind the bat. Kingsman did the receiving for the Theologues.

Locals To Battle Columbus Outfit Today in Quitman

All Men in Excellent Shape For Exhibition Schedule Preliminary To Opening of Southern Season.

BY CLARENCE NIXON,
Staff Correspondent.

Thomasville, Ga., March 29.—(Special.)—Dodging raindrops and trying to keep warm in Arctic weather, the Atlanta baseball team was determined to hold a workout today despite the bad weather. After quite a bit of waiting Bert Niehoff took his men out to the park for a workout, which was very brief. Sunday morning the weather started out bad and continued throughout today. Rain fell almost all day and the Crackers got very little practice.

After the game Saturday Niehoff figured on holding a double workout today but there was little that could be done. The boys warmed up on the radiators in the hotels, but had a hard time of it, as the heat at the hotel is rather scarce. The Crackers have a hard week staring them in the face with three squabbles, "tuon aq uo sanua paq" will be the foe in two of the games, one in Quitman and one in Thomasville, the other being in Brainbridge with the Bainbridge All-Stars.

This is the first idle day the Crackers have had since their arrival in the training camp and today there was a little pepper work and batting practice, but nothing to compare with the regular workouts. Overcasts are common on the streets of Thomasville and have been since early Sunday morning.

Bert Niehoff, Cracker manager, showed several of the young pitchers how to do their stuff on the mound. He explained the fine points of pitching, as well as other odds and ends of the twirling business. He put Billy Hayne and Arthur Jacobs, both southpaws, through the motions of getting the ball to first base. Hayne was working today after recovery from a skinned finger. Jim Marquis also was able to do some work. He was in uniform today and did a little pitching. Marquis has been suffering from a carbuncle on his neck for several days.

Despite the bad weather and the fact the Crackers did not get a heavy workout they will be in good condition for the games with Columbus and Bainbridge. Today was the last day in which the Crackers had to get much of a workout, for the week is full of games and at the end of the week the Atlanta club packs their trunks and pull out for their own ball park.

The Crackers are in fine shape, due to their steady training here. Manager Niehoff has been putting his men through in preparation for the Southern league season.

$23,000,000 School Bond Measure Will Be Debated Today by State Legislators

House Clears Decks To Take Up Measure for Meeting Educational Needs.

With the decks practically clear of minor issues, the house of representatives today will enter the final fight on the question of a bill to submit to the voters the question of issuing state bonds for educational purposes. The debate, under the order of business adopted last week, will commence when the house convenes this morning and continue until 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, when the previous question on the bill will be moved and the final vote taken.

The bill under discussion provides that, if the people ratify it at the election in November, the legislature on or before January 1, 1927, issue $23,000,000 in state bonds. Of this amount $4,000,000 is to be used for prompt payment of school teachers, to do away with the present system of school warrants which require discounting by the teachers themselves; $7,000,000 is for state aid for the building and equipping of consolidated schools in the rural districts; $11,000,000 is for new buildings and equipment for the University of Georgia and its branches, and $1,000,000 is for the state sanitarium for the insane at Milledgeville.

If the school bond bill passes the legislature and is ratified by the people, the bonds will not be all issued for several years to come, it being the plan merely to issue them as required to meet the building programs of the various institutions and to build as needed consolidated schools in rural districts which are not wealthy enough to do it on their own tax revenues.

Short Session Monday

The house adjourned Monday without voting on a bill to make an appropriation for the support of the veterans' service bureau, after considerable opposition was evidenced on the floor. The bill will not be available for further consideration until after a vote on the proposed educational bond issue, which is scheduled for Wednesday. It will be taken up as unfinished business when that vote is recorded.

The house resolved itself into a committee of the whole for consideration of the appropriation measure, and after considerable debate, voted to report the bill back to the house with a recommendation that it pass. The vote was 57 to 54. No sooner had the report been made than Representative Smith, of Brady, introduced a substitute which sought to abolish the bureau.

Action on the matter was forestalled when a motion to adjourn prevailed, and by a vote of 64 to 46, the house adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning, when debate on the educational bond measure will be resumed.

Insurance Tax Voted

The house passed one general bill, which would impose an occupational tax of $10 on insurance agents. The vote was 104 to 2.

Among the new bills introduced was one to provide for payment of pensions to teachers of the University of Georgia and its branches. It was sponsored by Representatives Palmour, of Hall, and Baker, of Lumpkin. Any regular teacher not less than 25 years old who had served consecutively not less than 58 years would receive one-half the salary paid at the time of retirement, payable monthly, provided payments did not exceed for a single year $1,500.

A bill to define speeding in the state and to provide for punishment for violations was introduced by Representatives Quarterman and Folks, of Ware.

Two bills to amend the present cigar and cigarette tax act were introduced by Representatives Jones, of Meriwether, and Harris, of Jefferson. One would amend the act so as to provide for registration of all tobacco dealers in the state, and the other would change the method of stamping.

Active Until Recently

Dr. Jarnagin, until his advanced age, was a high-spirited and active man. He was a prominent member of the Delta Phi fraternity at Virginia, the Capital City club, the Piedmont Driving club, the Gate City golf and tennis club, the Dixie club, years ago was one of the most prominent local clubs and only one or two members of the organization survive today.

He came from a prominent East Tennessee family and was a nephew of former Senator Spencer Jarnagin, of Tennessee, and the other son of his father, Dr. J. W. Jarnagin, of Miami Beach, Fla.

LABOR INDORSES SCHOOL BONDS

That the Georgia Federation of Labor is vitally interested in the state school bond issue to be considered by the Georgia legislature today is indicated by the action of that body in annual session in Columbus last week, which "unequivocally" indorsed the education bonds. The convention was held at the Walker hotel in Columbus.

The action of the labor convention was brought about when C. W. Cunningham, president, read his report in which was included indorsement of the governor's educational expansion plan. The convention suspended the rules and by unanimous consent adopted the president's recommendation and so wired the governor as follows:

"The Georgia Federation of Labor in convention indorsed unequivocally your position for extending schools of this state and urge you to press onward. We are with you." The message was signed by Louis B. Marquardt, secretary.

The section in President Cunningham's report that indorsed the school bond program was as follows:

"During the session of the legislature of 1925 Governor Walker increasingly advocated bonds for a fuller development of our common school system. At the present special session he is urging again the issuance of bonds for a further extension of the schools of Georgia.

"Governor Walker is thoroughly imbued with the thought that every boy and girl in the country should have an equal educational opportunity with every boy and girl in the state. We the boys and girls of the country are his pledges. I feel deeply grateful to Governor Walker and we bespeak for him the friendship of all our people in the campaign of our governor for the development and expansion of our public schools and that a telegram be sent from this convention urging him to press on—that we are with him."

Retail Merchants Hear Expert on "Salesmanship"

L. M. Bush, special representative of the retail merchandising department of the National Cash Register company, was principal speaker Monday night on the "Art of Salesmanship" to more than five hundred members of the Atlanta Retail Merchants association at the regular monthly meeting at the Chamber of Commerce building.

Illustrating his address by clever charts and sketches, Mr. Bush launched into an exhaustive account of the scientific art of merchandising goods. He called sales forces the most important link in the chain from the gathering of the raw material to the placing of the manufactured product in the hands of the public.

The speech dealt with salesmen, their relation to employers and their contact with consumers, and showed in a forceful manner and suggestions were made as to the elimination of the common faults.

"Do you know how a salesman spends his time?" he asked. "Well, I'll tell you. Thirty per cent of it is spent in walking due to bad placement of merchandise and out-of-the-way places in which packages are wrapped. This can be slashed in half if managers will study their stock and rearrange it. Nine per cent is spent in useless conversations with each other, and only 9 per cent of the entire time of the average salesman is spent in the actual sale of merchandise."

"I suggest that members of the sales force study their work, read literature concerning their respective

A, B. & A. REFINANCING PLANS ARE RATIFIED

New York, March 29.—Holders of certificates of deposit for bonds of the Atlanta, Birmingham & Atlantic, have unanimously assented to the reorganization plan whereby they will receive $60 in 5 per cent preferred stock of the new company for each $100 face value bond. Dividends on the preferred stock are to be guaranteed by the Coast Line. The time limit for deposit of income bonds with the reorganization committee expires April 28.

Assent of the holders of certificates of deposit for bonds as described above was said here Monday to be nothing more than formal ratification of an agreement announced through Colonel B. L. Bugg, receiver of the A. B. & A., when the Atlantic Coast Line railway effected purchase of the Georgia-Alabama road recently.

So successful were the first few motor buses introduced into Moscow a year ago that now 60 are operating there.

ATLANTA BOOSTED AS AIRLINE CENTER

Atlanta's opportunity of taking the lead in the development of air navigation in the southeast was the chief topic discussed at a meeting of the Presidents' club held at the Biltmore hotel Monday night. Speakers declared this city possesses advantages as the converging point of air transportation lanes equally as great as its strategic location as a railroad center.

More than a score of speakers were introduced and besides plans for promoting air transportation other important subjects relating to Atlanta's progress were outlined. Mel R. Wilkinson, "perpetual president" of the Presidents' club, presided assisted by Colonel Frederic J. Paxton, vice president and chairman of the executive committee. President Wilkinson and Colonel Paxton kept up a running fire of fun throughout the evening which enlivened the program at intervals between the discussions of serious subjects.

Those who talked of the development of Atlanta as an outstanding "airport" were Captain Roscoe Turner, southern representative of the General Airways corporation; Raymond A. Kline, vice president of R. H. Macy and company, of New York, affiliated with Davidson-Paxton-Stokes company, who handled arrangements for the recent flight from New York to Atlanta of "The Macy Special" airplane, and W. Tom Winn, president of the Georgia Automobile association.

Atlanta is Hub.

"Atlanta is the hub of the air lines in the south," Captain Turner declared. "This city now has a wonderful opportunity of jumping into the lead in the development of air navigation. The first thing needed is to complete Candler field as a landing field and equip it properly. With the new twin-engine planes the flight from New York to Atlanta can be made in less than seven hours with the plane carrying ten passengers and 1,000 pounds of express."

Captain Turner said the safety of air navigation is assured and that vast developments will come at an early date in air transportation. Mr. Kline told of the first air shipment made to Atlanta in "The Macy Special" while Mr. Winn urged the Presidents' club to give its support to the improvement of Candler field as a landing field.

Warden John W. Snook, of the federal penitentiary, made a brief talk in which he suggested that a plan be carried out under which prisoners in the penitentiary can take up vocational training and do other work which will permit them to earn extra money to help support dependent families.

"We have about 1,000 men at the prison now who could be used in this kind of work," he said.

Many Speak.

Others who spoke briefly were Luther Allen, president, Association of Life Insurers; E. E. Branch, Atlanta Retail Credit Men's association; Dr. J. W. Caldwell, Evangelical Ministers' association; Dr. James Campbell, Fulton County Medical association; Thomas W. Connally, Association of Building Owners and Managers; W. D. Hoffman, chamber of commerce; Charles LeRoux, Atlanta Automobile association; James A. Holloman and Paul Stevenson, The Constitution; Ralph Smith, The Journal; J. E. Skaggs, Atlanta Safety council; O. H. Smith, Atlanta Society of Civil Engineers; Harry M. Root, Civitan club; J. R. Smith, Atlanta Real Estate board; J. Sid Tiller and Emmet Quinn, Atlanta Federation of Labor; Major Robert B. Troutman, Atlanta Bar association; and H. H. Wagners, Atlanta club. All of these with the exception of newspapermen are presidents of Atlanta organizations, and have been elected to membership in the Presidents' club in the last three months.

Colonel Paxton announced that the club is completing plans to bring to Atlanta soon several outstanding officials of the country, including Secretary Jardine, of the United States department of agriculture, and Hanford McNider, assistant secretary of war.

The club adopted by unanimous vote a resolution supporting the movement to establish a soldiers' memorial at Kennesaw mountain.

ROALD AMUNDSEN AND ELLSWORTH LEAVE FOR NORWAY

Rosne, March 29.—Amid the cheers of a large crowd at the station Monday afternoon Captain Roald Amundsen, head of the Amundsen-Ellsworth Mobile expedition to the north pole, and his American partner Lincoln Ellsworth, left for Oslo, Norway.

Their departure followed the christening of the dirigible in which they will attempt the flight to the pole. The dirigible will be known as the Norge.

Under-Secretary of Aviation Bonanza presided at a luncheon in honor of the two explorers. Speaking for Premier Mussolini, Bonanza expressed satisfaction with the organization of the polar expedition and the ability and daring of the participants guaranteed the trip's success.

Representatives of the foreign office, the British American and Russian embassies and the Norwegian minister were at the train to wish the explorers God-speed.

MAN WHO BEAT WIFE TO DEATH GIVEN 3 YEARS

Jersey City, N. J., March 29.—James Fitzpatrick, who beat his wife to death with an iron bar, has been sentenced to three years in New Jersey state prison.

Unable to speak above a whisper, having lost his voice through fright at his first trial two years ago, Fitzpatrick stood facing his three small motherless daughters as sentence was pronounced.

The unusually light sentence followed a plea of guilty of manslaughter, which calls for a minimum term of five years. Prosecutor Alvin M. Mahon recommended that the two years in jail already served by Fitzpatrick be taken into consideration.

Counsel for the defendant argued successfully that the slaying was the result of a sudden impulse during a quarrel. Fitzpatrick had been forced to remain at home and care for the children while the murdered wife was out merry-making.

The three girls sided with their father, who is 33, and a radio mechanic by trade.

FLOORS of Beauty—Floors of Wear

—Have our experts lay them!

"I NEVER would have believed linoleum designs could be so lovely!"—said a customer in our store yesterday.

Pastel shades, rugged tile effects, softly rippled Jaspes, bold marbled patterns—here at our store you'll find just the right note in an Armstrong's Linoleum floor to properly set off the beauty of your pretty rugs and furnishings.

More than "pretty" too—these floors, laid by our experts, are PERMANENT. Neatly cemented over a lining of builders' deadening felt, they will wear for years. Wax them occasionally. They really mellow with age. Heels don't scar them, dropped things wipe right up. What a pleasant relief from old wood floors!

Come in this week!

GREEN is "coming" in home decoration

so Armstrong now presents NEW greens in beautiful floor designs

MORE than a mere spin of fashion's wheel lies behind the swing toward green in home decorating.

Green is restful to the eye. Green harmonizes well with other tones in walls and furnishings. Above all, green is such a comfortable color to live with.

When you shop this week ask to be shown the new patterns of Armstrong's Linoleum in soft pastel shades of green.

Examine closely, for instance, a tile pattern in which green predominates. Notice what an unusually pleasing shade of green we have achieved.

The mere fact that only the finest of carefully ground and reground pigments are used to obtain this color may not interest you. But your eyes will certainly be delighted with it and with the manner in which the tiles are so neatly set in place.

Touch the surface of the pattern. Did you ever know that linoleum was made with a surface so smooth, so free from "cloth marks," so velvety?

Be sure to see Armstrong's Embossed Handcraft Tile Inlaid

If you would like "texture" in your floors, then by all means see this unusual floor. Not only have differing tones of tiles been combined with no appearance of a pattern "repeat," but each tile is framed with an interliner that is actually countersunk.

Look also at the new marbled tiles of Armstrong's, patterns in which the "marbling" or graining runs through to the burlap back. See the new Handcraft Tile Inlaid. Armstrong's Jaspé you probably have already admired; but have you inspected the marble tiles, all-over effects, and mosaics?

These beautiful floors will last for a lifetime if they are cemented in place over a lining of builders' deadening felt.

38 WHITEHALL STREET

Nightly—Before Bed

follow this simple rule in skin care

By NORMA TALMADGE

Copyrighted, 1925, by P. O. Beauty Features

Foremost beauty experts throughout the world urge it as the most effective way to gain natural skin clearness... what to do, and why

WHAT you do at night—just before bed—for your skin is an all-important step in gaining the natural skin loveliness which all the world seeks today.

Leading skin experts urge the following rule. Urge that it be followed last thing every night, also every day. It has brought the reward of a naturally clear complexion to more women than any other method known.

Try it for one week. Note the improvement in the color and softness of your skin that follows regular cleansing with the gentle olive and palm lather of Palmolive, in this way:

THE RULE—MAKE IT YOURS STARTING TODAY

Wash your face gently with Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly, first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder and rouge if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away. Follow these rules day in and day out. Your skin will be soft and lovely—naturally colorful and clear.

Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment given above. Do not think any green soap, or represented as of palm and olive oils, is the same as Palmolive.

Remember that before Palmolive came, women were told, "use no soap on your faces." Soaps then were judged too harsh. Palmolive is a beauty soap made for one purpose only: to safeguard your complexion. 60 years of soap study stand behind it. Millions of pretty skins prove its effectiveness beyond all doubt.

BE SURE YOU GET THE REAL PALMOLIVE

It costs but 10c the cake!—so little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for their faces. Obtain Palmolive today. Note what one week of its use brings you. The Palmolive Company (Del. Corp.), Chicago, Illinois.

CORNWALLIS, ANGERED BY TARLETON'S DEFEAT, LEFT WINNSBORO WITH A LARGE FORCE AND STARTED HOT IN PURSUIT OF MORGAN, HOPING TO CATCH HIM BEFORE HE COULD REACH GREENE. THE RETIREMENT OF THE AMERICANS TO THE NORTH RESOLVED ITSELF INTO A RACE TO UNITE BEFORE THE BRITISH OVERTOOK THEM.

DO BE PREPARED TO CROSS THE RIVERS THAT LAY IN HIS PATH, AND WHICH AT THIS SEASON OF THE YEAR WERE SWOLLEN TORRENTS, GREENE MOUNTED LIGHT BOATS ON WHEELS AND CARRIED THEM WITH HIM. GREENE AND MORGAN MET AT GREENSBORO BUT CONTINUED TO RETREAT.

ON FEBRUARY 14TH 1781, GREENE CROSSED THE DAN RIVER INTO VIRGINIA AND WAS SAFE FROM PURSUIT. TWO DAYS LATER, CORNWALLIS AND HIS WEARY ARMY REACHED THE DAN BUT, FINDING IT UNFORWARD, FELL BACK IN DISGUST TO GUILFORD COURT HOUSE. TOMORROW—BATTLE OF GUILFORD COURT HOUSE.

Art Exhibition at The Biltmore Opens Tuesday Morning

An exhibition of painting by the old masters of the English, Spanish and Italian schools from the world renowned school of Thomas Agnew & Sons, of Old Bond street, London, opens Tuesday at the Atlanta Biltmore with Colin Agnew and David F. Houston, Jr., in personal charge, from 2:30 to 6 and from 8:30 to 10 o'clock.

Thomas Agnew & Sons is the oldest firm in England dealing in paintings. It was founded in 1815 and holds a preeminent place in the world of art.

A portrait of General Lord Townshend by Sir Joshua Reynolds is one of the best examples of the 18th century English period. This picture is not only of artistic interest, but also historical, as General Lord Townshend was the first Marquis of Townshend and succeeded General Wolfe as governor of Canada in the late 18th century.

Sir Thomas Lawrence's work is represented by two portraits and a sketch.

The gem of the entire collection is a small painting on wood, "A Lady on a Balcony," by Domenico Veneziano, of the Florentine school, and is one of the rarest and most exquisite of the collection. It was done about 1440 and is still in perfect condition and might well be called a "Romeo and Juliet" of the 15th century. Domestic scenes of this kind are very rare in early Italian art.

"The Rape of Amymone" by Jacopo Bellini is an excellent example of the Venetian school of the early 15th century.

A portrait of "Princess Eleonora dei Medici" by A. Sanchez Coelho is the only example of the Spanish school shown, as "The Chariot Blower" by El Greco, was bought by Addison Mizner, of Palm Beach, together with "A Portrait of a Man" by Titianotto of the Venetian school. As an historical note, a sister of Princess Eleonora dei Medici married Henry IV of France.

Among other paintings by the old masters to be shown will be those of Beechey, Bellotto, Calisto da Lodi, Caravaggio, Guardi, Isenbrandt, Marais, Malton, Meissner, Northcote, Romanino, Say, Tilborth and Vailant.

Waycross, Ga., March 29.—(AP)—In response to requests that he enter the race for governor, Judge Harry D. Reed, of the Waycross superior court circuit, said today he would not give a definite answer until after the adjournment of the present special session of the legislature.

Judge Reed said he felt that as governor of the Kiwanis clubs of Georgia he had accepted the responsibility to present the support of those clubs for a state highway bond issue and that this responsibility would not be fulfilled until after the special session.

Brown, of Kalamazoo, Mich., motored to Canton Monday.

Mrs. W. C. Sherman and Miss Kathleen Sherman, of Dothan, Ala., are registered at the Atlanta Biltmore.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pulsifer, of New York, are prominent guests at the Atlanta Biltmore.

Mrs. W. R. Jennings, of New York, is the guest of her niece, Mrs. Trammell Scott on Hahersham road.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Moran and Mrs. W. L. Yancey, of Rome, are at the Biltmore.

FALL OF FRANC MAY AID BRIAND

Paris, March 29.—Force of intense public feeling throughout France, due to the continued fall of the franc, is the one hope of Premier Aristide Briand when the chamber of deputies acts on the government's financial program Tuesday afternoon.

A vote by the deputies against the financial measure of Raoul Peret, minister of finance, will be looked upon as a deliberate vote for the overthrow of the government at a time when France is faced by her most dangerous financial situation in years. Fear of public opinion may cause enough members of parliament to vote for the government, and thus save the Briand ministry.

Both socialists and the members of the right wing in the chamber are now definitely pledged to vote against the Peret financial plan. Thus far the radical members have failed to arrive at a definite decision as to what their attitude shall be. There is a tendency in this group to give 80 votes for the government plan, 40 to abstain from voting and 20 either to abstain from the vote or to cast their ballots against. The radical members of the chamber will meet early Tuesday in a last-minute effort to cast their vote as a unit. There is some tendency among the radicals to cast their entire vote for Briand and to publish the fact that their action was due solely to the financial plight of the country.

Premier Briand will enter the chamber assured of 221 votes, the number he received when his last cabinet fell. Friends of the premier believe that he will receive 20 or 30 more which would give him a slight majority.

HERR JOLLY FASTS 44 DAYS; BREAKS WORLD'S RECORD

Berlin, March 29.—(AP)—Herr Jolly, professional faster, tonight established a record of 44 days of abstinence from food and was helped out of his glass cage a physical wreck. He had beaten the world's record held by Signor Mulatti, of Italy, by one day.

The new champion was greeted enthusiastically by a large crowd, including numerous physicians who have been interested in his case. Though unable to walk and speaking in a feeble voice, Jolly's mind seemed very alert.

The floor of his cage was carpeted with cigarette butts and strewn with mineral water bottles. Jolly said that during the past three days he had been able to smoke only ten cigarettes a day since they affected his stomach.

The doctors on superficial examination found the faster's digestive organs entirely dormant and took him to a hospital, where he will be fed a liquid diet exclusively, several teaspoonful at a time under the closest medical observation.

Beverly Burgess Comments On Verdi's Opera "Aida" As Opening the 1926 Season

BY BEVERLY BURGESS.

That opera week is to open this year with "Aida" is a matter of pleasurable comment with all music lovers scattered all over the entire south.

This is a wise choice in that it is an opera which is more or less familiar and therefore is within the reach of the public generally instead of being within the grasp only of artists and technicians. The story, the leading arias and musical construction of "Aida" are well known and worthy of the deepest study and interest of all music lovers.

Though an Italian by birth, Verdi was commissioned by the khedive of Egypt in 1871 to write the opera of "Aida" for the opening night of a new opera house in Cairo, Egypt.

The story is entirely Egyptian and full of rich Oriental coloring. The action takes place in Memphis and Thebes during the days of the pharaohs. It is the love story of Aida, the daughter of Amobastro, king of Ethiopia, and of Rhadames, a young Egyptian warrior. Rhadames was in turn beloved by Amneris, daughter of the sovereign of Egypt.

And herein is contained the same world-old triangle tangle. Vengeance is reeked by the unhappy Princess Amneris, in her unrequited love, and the two lovers, Aida and Rhadames, are condemned to be buried alive in the vaults under the temple of the god Ptah.

In the last act the stage is divided into two tiers, the upper representing the Temple of Vulcan, crowded with priests and priestesses chanting as the stone is being placed, closing the subterranean entrance to the tomb of the living victims, while below is to be seen the inside of the tomb in which Aida and Rhadames are still alive and can be heard singing their dying "O terra addio," one of the beauties of the opera.

Ponselle's Art. And in the character of Aida you are to hear Rosa Ponselle herself at her very best. In Amneris you will remember not only for her art, but as the delightful hostess at the Biltmore costume ball of last year, the other being Frances Peralta.

Rhadames is to be portrayed and sung by Marinelli, than whom there is no more popular member of the Metropolitan cast with all Atlantans. And do you remember that it is in Aida that you are to see the Metropolitan opera ballet in complete and perfect action? Here alone is an appeal which should fill the old auditorium to overflowing—and very likely will!

Settings Are Brilliant.

The entire settings bespeak the glory and splendor of life in old Egypt, including many wonderful court scenes and village life portrayals.

Aida is a four-act opera and is considered the very greatest of all of Verdi's works, showing undoubtedly the influence which Wagner exercised upon this great Italian composer.

Certainly, no wiser choice for opening night could have been made than the selection of "Aida."

The Junior League Line.

When Mrs. Glenn Ryman, the widow-awake chairman for tickets for the forthcoming Junior League Follies performance, said: "First come, first served," she evidently was taken at face value.

Something very convincing there must be behind the sunny and graciousness of the charming Anne, for you should have seen the "First Comes!"

At the very crack of dawn Monday morning the whole face of the earth in front of Mose's, the ticket-sale objective, was strewn with would-be purchasers to the big show.

First, of course, was Chick Ridley's talent.

Upon arriving promptly at 12 noon, Mr. Ridley's man-servant stretched his overcoat first and then himself, upon the threshold of the doorway of the Mose establishment. For the next eight and three-quarters hours he slept! No one beat him through that front door, however!

Second in line was Willard McBurney's chauffeur, with his handsome Cadillac lined up against the curb waiting impatiently for business time of day to strike.

Next followed dozens of chauffeurs, office boys and erstwhile purchasers in many different walks of life. "I managed to get uptown certainly not later than 7 a. m.," said Mrs. Harrington, the ever-vigilant chairman of Follies, and at that hour the line seemed interminable. The officer on that beat said the line had been forming ever since midnight. "But," she added, "ear to the public that there are plenty of seats for all and still splendid ones to be had."

Three Cheers.

Think of the baby beds, the treatment for poor sick people, the operations for hopelessly crippled and the thousand and one other splendid things this stream of gold which will be turned into the coffers of our magnificent charities will accomplish and let's give these splendid girls all of the cooperation possible in this stupendous thing they are doing for us!

And every cent of this money is to be kept in Atlanta circulation!

Here, indeed, is a chance to show that much-heralded Atlanta spirit, isn't it?

BURBANKS BETTER DOCTOR DECLARES

Santa Rosa, Calif., March 29.—

Luther Burbank had improved considerably Sunday following his confinement to bed as a result of overwork and a heart attack.

After a late afternoon visit to the scientist's home, Dr. Joseph H. Shaw announced that Burbank's heart action was much better and that there was no cause for worry concerning his condition.

"There is still a slight gastro-intestinal disturbance," Dr. Shaw said, "but we do not consider it anything serious."

Burbank's recent utterances regarding his stand in religious matters and his ready defense of his nomination of himself as an infidel have been in part blamed for his collapse. There were numerous activities in connection with an elaborate celebration of his 77th birthday recently that also added to the strain on the scientist.

Since Burbank announced his lack of belief in orthodox church doctrines he has been the recipient of thousands of letters supporting or denouncing his position. To all of these he has attempted to reply.

The heart attack came last Thursday night, but Dr. Shaw withheld his announcement until Saturday.

TREASURY BARS GEORGIA LAWYERS

Washington, March 29.—(AP)—

Twenty-four lawyers have been disbarred from practice before the treasury department as a result of an investigation of charges of collusion between them and employees of the internal revenue bureau.

A list of those disbarred, made public today by Secretary Mellon, also included 15 others who have been suspended. The disbarments covered a period of three years.

The list of lawyers who have been disbarred from treasury practice include Augustus E. Adams, of Columbus, Ga.; Rodney B. Horton, Savannah, Ga.; and John B. Rogers, New Orleans.

In some instances the lawyers were former employees of the treasury and it was charged they represented taxpayers on whose cases they worked while in government employ. This charge was made against Rodney B. Horton, Savannah.

Augustus E. Adams, of Columbus, Ga., was charged by the treasury with filing false expense accounts while in the internal revenue service.

Hearings will be afforded each lawyer by Secretary Mellon before actual disbarment is ordered. In several instances disbarment was ordered upon the failure of the lawyers to defend themselves.

Helen Wills Is Mentioned As Possible Bride in Fall

BY DON SKENE.

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Rome, March 29.—Has Helen Wills found a sweetheart and future husband?

This question is keenly being discussed over the tea cups in Rome's cosmopolitan society circles following the American champion's arrival here.

Although Helen blushing denies any intimations that she is going to get married, Dame Rumor points out the following facts:

Fred Moody, a young man from San Francisco, who has admired Helen since their childhood days devoted escort again. The dashing Fred proved to be Princess Helen's most ardent cavalier at the Monte Carlo gambling rooms and romantic spots along the Riviera from Mentone to Cannes. When Helen announced her intention of proceeding to Rome, Fred went ahead.

Mrs. Moody, Fred's mother, had a conference with Mrs. Wills after the latter's arrival, the two mothers being close friends. Helen has refused all invitations to luncheons, dinners, teas, theaters and operas during her Rome stay, telling everybody that "Mr. Moody has arranged everything for our stay, thanks."

According to well-informed gossip,

the wedding bells may chime when Helen and Fred return to San Francisco after the national championships in August.

Georgia Delegation Fails To Agree on Proposed Bill For New Judicial District

Representative Lankford Opposes Plan To Place Valdosta Division in Southern District.

Washington, March 29.—(Special.) After hearing a stormy squabble among members of the Georgia delegation over the proposed bill for creating a new judicial district in the state, a sub-committee of the house judiciary committee Monday decided to hold another meeting Tuesday when it will determine what form of

EAGER SHOPPERS THROG STORES

Salesgirls Dread Bargain Days

Louisa was tired. From morning until night she had been on her feet in the busy department store. So matter how she felt, she must serve her customers with a smile. Her head throbbed and her feet ached. Week after week, she felt her strength ebbing until she was in a run-down condition, not fit to work.

"My mother suggested that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound," she writes. "I took only three bottles and I brought me about all right." Through the Vegetable Compound, she found better health to do her work and she told the other girls about it.

That was several years ago. Louisa is now Mrs. L. J. Van Dyke of 1246 Spring St., Morrell Park, Baltimore, Md. She is the mother of three healthy, active children. She says that she found the tonic effect of the Vegetable Compound helpful to her during this entire period.

Every working girl knows that to do her work properly and easily she must have good health. She can not afford to lose time from her work. Girls who suffer from a run-down condition should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

of the subcommittee to induce him to yield. He announced afterward that he would fight the bill on the floor if it placed the Valdosta division, which is in his own congressional district, in the southern district, unless his constituents indicated they would favor it.

Members of the subcommittee, which is headed by Yates, of Illinois, showed plainly their irritation at times, and three or four times interrupted to explain that unless the Georgia delegation could agree on the bill there would be no use of seeking approval of the house.

The meeting was closed by a speech by Lankford who used a map to support his contention that the business of the courts in his district required that the Valdosta division should be placed in the middle district. He said he was not in a position to yield because of the feeling of his people.

His argument centered largely around the accessibility of lawyers to the headquarters of the district. It is asked to yield.

Representative Hersey, Maine republican, said that it apparently was a matter of what the people in Lankford's district wanted, and that Lankford should inform them that it was not possible to have an additional district at all unless he yielded at this point and that in the interest of harmony he should yield. He and Representative Vinson, of Georgia, pointed out that the new district was a matter that affected the people of the whole state, and that relief for them should not be withheld because of the feeling in one section of the state.

Hersey pressed Lankford earlier to answer directly whether he would oppose the bill on the floor if the Valdosta division were placed in the southern district.

When Vinson said that all the members of the delegation had agreed, except Lankford, to placing the division in the southern district, Lankford declared that Senator Harris stood with him. Harris was not present at the meeting, nor was Representative Upshaw, who is ill at Clearwater, Fla. Upshaw is agreeable to the majority view. Harris, who has favored placing the Valdosta division in the middle district all the time, was not present at the recent meeting of the delegation with the Georgia Bar association, which opposed inclusion of Valdosta division in the middle district.

Bennett Present.

John W. Bennett, of Wavercross, former district attorney for the district, was present at the meeting and made a plea for an agreement. He was a member of the committee of the Georgia Bar association which came here and said the committee was practically unanimous in favor of placing Valdosta in the southern district.

Bennett explained that if it were a question of the amount of the delegation which should go in the middle district, but that if it were a question of number of counties or population, that it should be placed in the southern district, but urged the delegation to come to some agreement that would assure success of the bill. He said that there was dire need of relief, and expressed his opinion that three judges in the state who have died in the last few years came to their deaths prematurely because of overwork.

Senator George told the subcommittee that his bill makes the same disposition as Larsen's original bill of the Valdosta division, but that he had so included it in order to meet objections of Harris and Lankford, and that personally he thought it should go in the southern district.

On the poll of the delegation, Crisp, Rutherford and Larsen voted with Lankford in favor of the middle district, but withdrew later when it appeared that holding out would endanger the measure. The other members voted for placing Valdosta in the southern district.

WOMEN DECLARED MORE BEAUTIFUL TODAY THAN EVER

London, March 29.—Women are more beautiful today than at any previous time in the world's history, famous British painters have decided by a vote of 11 to 1.

The one dissenting vote was cast by a woman, Miss Hepburn Edwards, vice president of the Royal Society of Miniature Painters.

Philip Connard, R. A., thought that there had been no change in feminine beauty.

"The seas, skies, trees, birds and flowers are just as beautiful today as they have always been," he declared. "So are the women."

Walter W. Russell, R. A., said that shingled heads, lineless, flat-chested fashionable figures made the modern woman look less good looking than she really was.

COMMANDER BYRD LEAVES ON MONDAY FOR POLAR REGION

Washington, March 29.—(AP)—Lieutenant Commander Richard E. Byrd said today he would be departing next Monday from the Brooklyn navy yard on the first lap of his journey to explore the northern polar regions by airplane.

The Byrd expedition will sail at 2 p. m. with John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Jase Ford, G. Truette Davidson, and possibly other sponsors of the trip aboard, including Vincent Astor, who will bring back the visitors on a yacht after the steamer Chanter clears New York harbor and heads northward.

Rear Admiral Silas Plunkett, commanding the Brooklyn yard, also will see the expedition off.

The Chanter will carry 44 persons, picking up an "ice skipper" at Tromsø, Norway, the only port at which she will call on her way to Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, where the air route starts.

An African plant is known as the bushman's candle, because if the stems are lighted they burn like tallow.

Woodrow Wilson's Daughter FIGHTS FOR PRINCIPLE IN NEW YORK COURT Is "Chip Off Old Block"

New York, March 29.—When the late Woodrow Wilson set his jaw and fought for a principle something had to give way and it almost never was the president.

Now his daughter, Margaret, has shown a flash of that same determination to stick to a point in the face of logic, argument and what others insist is common sense.

Miss Wilson flatly refused to Tombs court Monday to sign a complaint against two boys who had ransacked her apartment.

"I don't want these boys prosecuted," a conviction would stand in the way of their going straight for a lifetime," said the daughter of the former president.

In vain the authorities pointed out to her that one of the burglars, Joseph Moriglia, had a previous conviction for burglary against his record, and that the other, Anthony Munizato, was wearing stolen cuff links.

part of the loot of another robbery, when arrested. The boys are 17 and 16 years of age, respectively.

"I don't care what the records show," said Miss Wilson. "They probably belong to a crowd and were led astray. They cannot judge right from wrong like older people."

Margistrate Flood said he had no choice but to dismiss the complaint and Miss Wilson waited in court and shook hands with the boys and their families. She had recovered jewelry worth $500 and a typewriter which the youths had stolen.

To her disappointment, however, the police refused to let the young burglars go. Moriglia was turned over to a probation officer in whose care he had been paroled after a previous conviction, and Munizato was held on suspicion of complicity in another robbery.

"And to think, the only lesson they need is kinship," protested Miss Wilson.

Woman Rebuked for Smoking In Country Club Ends Life

UNAPPRECIATED POETRESS DRINKS POISON

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Chicago, Ill., March 29.—Two women, one married, one a girl who thought the world had not given them a square deal, sought death today. The married woman succeeded, but the girl will survive.

Mrs. Rose Dykman, a young wife, attended a dinner party at the Joint Country club with her husband, and another married couple. She was rebuked by the club steward for smoking, which humiliated her deeply. On the way home and after arriving at their flat, her husband chided her for violating the rules of the club, so she locked herself in the bathroom and swallowed poison. She was rushed to a hospital, where she died. She had scribbled a farewell note to her husband in the automobile as they came home.

Miss Helen Hilliard, a poetess, 19 years old, disappeared because her verses did not sell and dispirited when she was evicted for non-payment of rent, perched what she thought would be her bitter farewell to the world and then took poison. Surgeons pumped the poison from her, however, and she may survive. On a table in her room lay the unfinished farewell, beginning:

"I am standing on the threshold, Of Eternity, at last, As reckless of the future As I have been of the past." There were five stanzas, all reflecting weariness and depression.

EXCURSION TRAINS PLANNED IN FLORIDA

Tallahassee, Fla., March 29.—(AP)—Plans are being worked out by the large railroads operating in Florida for the establishment of not only home-seekers and excursion rates to the state during the coming summer, but excursion trains also, it was revealed here today.

Messages and letters received by the Florida railroad commission from several high officials of the lines were to the effect that an excursion schedule is either being tentatively drawn up, or is to be taken up shortly.

COUSIN OF ROCKEFELLER DEAD IN COLORADO

Canon City, Colo., March 29.—(AP)—Captain Benjamin Franklin Rockefeller, Colorado pioneer and a cousin of John D. Rockefeller, died of pneumonia here today. He was 91 years old. For about eight years Captain Rockefeller was president of the Rockefeller family association. It is explained that all the Rockefellers do not spell their names alike.

PLAN SETTLEMENT OF WAR CLAIMS

Washington, March 29.—(AP)—The treasury's plan to pay immediately the $190,000,000 in claims of American citizens against Germany on its own account, trusting to a refunding by the collection of German reparations, was put up to congress for approval today in a bill introduced by Representative Mills, republican, of New York.

The program provides for a complete settlement of all war claims between Germany and the United States, including the return of property of German nationals held by the alien property custodian and the payment of German owners of ships, radio stations and patents taken and used by the American government.

It authorizes the government to borrow the money necessary to make such payments, and provides that all receipts received from Germany on account of reparations and the cost of maintaining the American army on the Rhine shall be applied to a liquidation of this debt. The $30,000,000 accruing in interest from money on deposit with the alien property custodian prior to 1921 also would be applied.

Thus, the treasury proposes to wind up within eight years, the time it is estimated will be required to meet the proposed debt, all fiscal differences between Germany and America resulting from the war which would take 80 years under the Berlin treaty and the reparations program.

Germany would be relieved of some of the strict terms of the Berlin treaty under the program, officials explained, but the plan was declared today by its author, Acting Secretary Winston, of the treasury, as "a recognition of sound policy in the treatment of war losses of our own citizens and of the property of enemy nationals."

Easy To Gain Weight With Yeast and Iron

New Combination of Yeast With Vegetable Iron Builds Up Weight in Three Weeks

Thin, run-down and underweight men, women and children can improve their health, increase their energy and put on from five to twenty pounds of solid flesh in three weeks.

A new combination of yeast vitamins with vegetable iron, renews the action of sluggish blood cells, drives out dangerous body poisons, increases energy and supplies the system with the vitamins that build up weight.

For years yeast has been known as a rich vitamin food, but not until we perfected "ironized yeast"—which comes in concentrated tablet form, was it possible to take yeast and iron in the right proportions to build up weight.

Vegetable "iron" when combined with yeast is quite easy to digest, therefore better for the system. And "yeast" when ironized, becomes just twice as beneficial as ordinary fresh or cake yeast.

Ironized Yeast tablets are composed of concentrated food elements, therefore they are pleasant to take and free from drug-like effects. It makes no difference how old you are—or how young you are—how long you have been underweight—or how much underweight you are, "ironized yeast" tablets are positively guaranteed to pick you right up, and add from five to twenty pounds of good firm flesh in three weeks' time. If they fail get your money back.

Sold by druggists, at $1.00 for a large 60-tablet package, or sent direct from laboratory on receipt of price. Ironized Yeast Co., Desk 202, Atlanta, Ga.

Easy To Gain Weight With Yeast and Iron

New Combination of Yeast With Vegetable Iron Builds Up Weight in Three Weeks

Thin, run-down and underweight men, women and children can improve their health, increase their energy and put on from five to twenty pounds of solid flesh in three weeks.

A new combination of yeast vitamins with vegetable iron, renews the action of sluggish blood cells, drives out dangerous body poisons, increases energy and supplies the system with the vitamins that build up weight.

For years yeast has been known as a rich vitamin food, but not until we perfected "ironized yeast"—which comes in concentrated tablet form, was it possible to take yeast and iron in the right proportions to build up weight.

Vegetable "iron" when combined with yeast is quite easy to digest, therefore better for the system. And "yeast" when ironized, becomes just twice as beneficial as ordinary fresh or cake yeast.

Ironized Yeast tablets are composed of concentrated food elements, therefore they are pleasant to take and free from drug-like effects. It makes no difference how old you are—or how young you are—how long you have been underweight—or how much underweight you are, "ironized yeast" tablets are positively guaranteed to pick you right up, and add from five to twenty pounds of good firm flesh in three weeks' time. If they fail get your money back.

Sold by druggists, at $1.00 for a large 60-tablet package, or sent direct from laboratory on receipt of price. Ironized Yeast Co., Desk 202, Atlanta, Ga.

INSTALLMENT XXXII.
THE BEAUTY OF FIRE.

Poor Donovan wasn't in the least like Juliet's nurse or old Mrs. Hinton. A staid, prudish spinster with an inborn dislike for men and unclean anecdotes.

"I'll undress myself tonight," called Celia again. "I want to be alone. Pleasant dreams to you, nurse."

"Thank you, miss. The same to you."

The voice on the other side of the door had a gentler tone than usual.

"I wonder if she guesses I am unhappy about something and is sorry?" thought Celia.

She had a second's impulse to open the door, then resisted it, and heard the quick, short footsteps retreating.

It wasn't in Donovan to comfort any one but a child. To a small child in trouble she was all kindness. Celia felt so lonely and forlorn as she stood listening to those fading footsteps that she thought with longing of how Donovan used to take her on her lap and rock her for child-like troubles.

But at the picture of her present tall self draped over those austere knees she smiled again, even more dryly.

"Women as tall as I am have to comfort themselves," she reflected. "It's only the little women, like Gracie, that can be petted and consoled. I must go on being hurt till I can think of something that will help me."

Yes, she was cruelly hurt. She had been so confident that Hilary held a better opinion of her than to think she would take such a base advantage of him or any one.

Then all at once there came before her the look in his eyes and the tone of his voice as he had exclaimed, "Dearest, generous child. I never loved you so much!"

It was as if he had spoken the words again to her. The pain began to leave her eyes and throat. Since he had said it, he must have meant it.

"May I put out a few of the candles that donkey lighted?" he asked.

He never said things he didn't mean. He must have some affection for her after all, and she felt ashamed of dwelling only on his misunderstanding of her, instead of on his invariable kindness.

"I must have affection for him, too," she reflected, "because if I hadn't he couldn't have hurt me so."

The stabbing in her eyes grew less and less.

"If he could only have been my real father," was her sorrowful thought. "Then I shouldn't have been as I am now. It's as if my soul were torn, too, and that other one..." She shuddered afresh at the thought of him.

Her softer mood was swallowed up in detestation.

She stared out with clenched eyebrows at the soft, blurred night and the serried lights of the plaza rising tier on tier against it.

"I hope you are suffering..." somewhere... very, very much," she said again, this time as if addressing some one who could hear her.

The following evening she had to go to a concert bearing Hilary's excuses.

As she passed down the hall on the way to her car she saw a footman carrying a tray of food to the library.

"I forgot to tell you," she said, stopping, "to set the small table in the library for two. I shall wait up for Mr. Fraser."

"Very good, madam. Shall I open a bottle of Chablis?"

"Not for me," said Celia, "but probably Mr. Fraser would like it."

"He ordered Scotch and soda, madam."

"Then that will do," said Celia. "You can make me some orange-ade."

Padraic O'Shea was one of the concert party, and as he lived near them she offered him a lift in her car on the way back. When it drew near she said:

"Would you like to come in and have something to eat? My husband is arriving about midnight, and there's a cold supper in the library. I'm going to wait up for him."

"I don't care for anything to eat, thanks," replied Padraic, "but I'd love to come in for a bit, if you don't mind."

Celia hesitated, but not enough for him to notice. He had struck her the whole evening as being rather strange, she had even wondered if he hadn't taken just a drop too much at dinner, and she had only asked him if he would like to come in and have something to eat because two minutes before he had declared that he felt ravenously hungry. Now he had evidently forgotten all about it. But his eyes were so bright and clear and his words so distinctly clipped in their rapidity that she decided his suppressed excitement came from the intoxication of music and not from wine.

He had told her earlier in the evening that he had been composing a rhapsody on "Melusine" all that afternoon and could only tear himself away from it because he was to meet Melusine herself.

"Of course I don't mind. I should like it," she said, smiling at him.

This smile came because of the eager way in which he was looking at her for an answer, exactly as if it were a matter of life or death whether she allowed him to come in with her or not. She was used by this time to his exaggeration of what appeared to her trifles into momentous events, but this trait seemed now more marked than usual.

"Thank you," he exclaimed in the same ardent, suppressed way, as though she had invited him to share some occult privilege which involved his whole future.

She could not divine that that is exactly what Padraic considered that she had done. The shining moment was at hand. Its glow pierced his heart and nerves, and he found it hard to hold himself from trembling.

She wore as a wrap that evening an immense crimson cloak, the antique velvet of which it was made falling about her in folds soft as silk.

As the weather had been at one of its vivid, American antics while they were in the theater and dropped some fifteen degrees, she kept her cloak on until the fire should have blazed up.

"Men scarcely know how beautiful fire is," quoted Padraic, gazing down at it, and then lifting his eyes to her as the servant left them together. "For how beautiful a woman can be till firelight shines on her."

"Even you have never called me 'beautiful' before," said Celia, laughing a little, and you've made me more pretty speeches than any one else."

"O, for God's sake, don't call them 'pretty speeches'!" exclaimed the young man irritably. Then begged humbly for Padraic. "Do forgive me; I'm all on edge tonight."

Celia became serious at once.

"I thought you didn't seem quite yourself. You aren't ill, are you?"

"No, just lumpy," said Padraic.

He was an artist in emotion as well as in music, and the shining moment, though very near, had not quite come. He waited for the touch of inspiration that it would bring with it. The words, the gesture, the moment must be as perfectly one as words, voice, and music in a perfect song.

"May I put out a few of the candles that donkey lighted?" he asked.

"My eyes ache from the glare of the footlights into the box. And the firelight is so delicious."

"Yes, do," said Celia.

She adored the uncertain beauty of firelight as much as he did.

He went rapidly about, setting the old iron extinguishers on candle after candle until only four great tapers were left burning. They gleamed in blurry aureoles against the dark oak of the walls, dimmed now by the brilliant leaping of the fire.

The Rialto

"The Golden Strain," a Fox Film production based on the Peter R. Ryan story, the featured offering at the Rialto theater this week, is an unusually good picture. It is the story of a young army officer who is handicapped by a "yellow streak" and how he is enabled to overcome his weakness when the supreme test came.

One of the big dramatic climaxes is a thrilling battle scene in which the famous Tenth Cavalry clashes with several hundred Apache Indians on the warpath. Kenneth Harlan and Madge Bellamy have the leading roles, with Hobart Bosworth, Ann Pennington and a notable cast in support. It is Atlanta's first view of Miss Pennington as the star of the movies, and she already has scored a hit.

Much of the action in "The Golden Strain" takes place near Fort Huachuca, Arizona, where the notorious Geronimo once ran amuck. "The Golden Strain" is the film version of one of Ryan's best stories.

The feature picture is enhanced by the showing of the Mack Sennett comedies, "Over Thereabouts" and "Pathe News" and the presentation of other Rialto entertainment features.

West End Theater

"The Lights of Old Broadway" is based on the play, "The Merry Wives of Gotham," by Laurence Eyre, scenario by Carey Wilson. Last time at the West End today.

The picture was made only after many months of research and several pioneer New Yorkers, now aged and grey, acted in the capacity of technical advisers.

The supporting cast to Marion Davies are Conrad Nagel, Frank Corrier, George K. Arthur, Mathew Peiz, Charles McHugh and others.

Devised for Motion Picture

Theaters

Yesterday's reception for "The Melting Pot"

(first of the great Public Stage Entertainments, coming to the Howard each week) swept multitudes into gales of applause, many, many were turned away. Truly, the one outstanding amusement event in years and the beginning of Atlanta's new era in stage productions at the Howard.

This great achievement in de luxe motion picture

theater entertainment, made possible only by the Howard Theater's new affiliation with PUBLIC THEATERS CORPORATION, a vast organization of America's finest motion picture theaters, such as Rivoli, New York; Metropolitan, Boston; Balaban and Katz Theaters, Chicago; Shea's, Buffalo; Capitol, Detroit; Missouri Theater, St. Louis, and others. These magnificent productions, routed over the PUBLIC THEATERS CIRCUIT, are devised and created by John Murray Anderson, Frank Cambria, Gus Edwards and others, utilizing all the resources of the theatrical world.

John Murray Anderson's production, "The Melting Pot,"

will be followed by others, including "The Dime Museum" (starting next Monday), "Gypsy Follies," "Sky Larks," "Paradise Isle," and others.

At the Howard each week you are certain of seeing bigger, better and more unusual performances than you ever dreamed would be presented in an Atlanta motion picture theater.

And on the Howard screen as well the finest pictures

will be shown. For instance this week will be shown "LET'S GET MARRIED," a Paramount picture with Richard Dix and Lois Wilson, the fastest and funniest film farce ever.

IT HAPPENED

AT THE GREATER

A Triumph Ovation for the Biggest and Most Startling

Entertainment Feature Ever

Devised for Motion Picture

Theaters

Yesterday's reception for "The Melting Pot"

(first of the great Public Stage Entertainments, coming to the Howard each week) swept multitudes into gales of applause, many, many were turned away. Truly, the one outstanding amusement event in years and the beginning of Atlanta's new era in stage productions at the Howard.

This great achievement in de luxe motion picture

theater entertainment, made possible only by the Howard Theater's new affiliation with PUBLIC THEATERS CORPORATION, a vast organization of America's finest motion picture theaters, such as Rivoli, New York; Metropolitan, Boston; Balaban and Katz Theaters, Chicago; Shea's, Buffalo; Capitol, Detroit; Missouri Theater, St. Louis, and others. These magnificent productions, routed over the PUBLIC THEATERS CIRCUIT, are devised and created by John Murray Anderson, Frank Cambria, Gus Edwards and others, utilizing all the resources of the theatrical world.

John Murray Anderson's production, "The Melting Pot,"

will be followed by others, including "The Dime Museum" (starting next Monday), "Gypsy Follies," "Sky Larks," "Paradise Isle," and others.

At the Howard each week you are certain of seeing bigger, better and more unusual performances than you ever dreamed would be presented in an Atlanta motion picture theater.

And on the Howard screen as well the finest pictures

will be shown. For instance this week will be shown "LET'S GET MARRIED," a Paramount picture with Richard Dix and Lois Wilson, the fastest and funniest film farce ever.

"Melting Pot" First Offering Under New Howard Policy

From the days of yore when nickelodeons were the only place where a picture was shown, there has been an evolution in the management and policies of the theater, until we reached the modern motion picture theater with its feature picture, comedy, news reel and perhaps a single performer as an "extra, added attraction."

The Howard theater inaugurates this week an ultra-modern policy of motion picture entertainment that has thrown as wide a gulf between it and the modern theater as exists between the modern and the old nickelodeon days.

It has long been a decided nuisance to be forced to sit through a three-hour performance in order to see a real big time stage production, and sometimes an equally annoying to see nothing but photography at a theater. The Howard theater management has found a happy medium between the two. With a miniature and decidedly complete stage scene and the highest type of feature picture in addition to the regular comedies and news reel, the new Howard program leaves no part of a person's desires in the way of entertainment unfulfilled.

The stage presentation this week is "The Melting Pot," by John Murray Anderson, whose productions—by the way—are going to be used for the next few weeks. This revue, in our opinion, the best illustration of Israel Zangwill's famous phrase that has ever been shown on a stage.

In the revue, each country of the world is represented by a singer and several dancers. As each performer finishes his native song or dance, he passes into a huge melting pot in the back center of the stage! When all have finished, they emerge from the pot amid whirls of music, dancing the great American Charleston.

The feature picture, "Let's Get Married," is a hilarious comedy based and titled on the three words that have endeavored more trouble than ever any impressions tending to cast doubts on a person's veracity. Lois Wilson and Richard Dix are the co-stars.

The plot is concerned chiefly with escapades of a wealthy young man who is constantly in hot water on account of his penchant for causing disaster in the lives of those around him. In which he finds himself kept the Monday afternoon rocking with laughter. A Harry Langdon comedy, "Honey, Honey," is also very good. The Howard orchestra, under direction of Joseph Littau, presents selections from "Rose Marie" as the overture.

It is an injustice to term the new Howard policy an innovation or other similar terms. The new Howard policy heralds a new era in the way of motion picture entertainment.

CAPITAL HONOR DR. LONG TODAY

Washington, March 20.—(Special.)—Georgia's first son to be so honored will take his place among the nation's notables in statutory hall at the capitol today, when the statue of Dr. Crawford W. Long, who first used ether to perform a surgical operation, will be unveiled in the presence of a noteworthy audience, including Governor Walker, of Georgia, members of congress, prominent members of the medical profession and representatives of other walks of life.

The statue was placed in statutory hall Monday, many tourists stopping to watch the work of swinging it into place. It was later covered with the veil which will be withdrawn formally Tuesday by the two daughters of the Georgia physician, Mrs. Frances Long Taylor and Miss Emma Long. A great-granddaughter of Dr. Long will be present at the ceremonies, Mrs. C. W. Roberts, who lives here.

Those who gather about the statue Tuesday will hear from a number of speakers tributes in the country physician who, just 84 years, 20, performed the first operation with the use of ether as an anesthetic. Again, the story of his first operation will be told, how he removed a small tumor from the neck of James W. Venable, in his office near Jeffersonville, Ga., on March 20, 1842, after having induced anesthesia by applying a towel of sulphuric ether to Mr. Venable's nose.

First Georgia Statue.
The statue of Dr. Long is placed in statutory hall by the Crawford W. Long Memorial Association, which is the first to be put there by the state of Georgia. The other niche is to be filled with a statue of Alexander H. Stephens, vice president of the Confederacy, who was Dr. Long's roommate at the University of Georgia.

The statue of Dr. Long will be presented to the state from the memorial association by Chief Justice Richard B. Russell, Georgia supreme court, to the nation by Governor Clifford M. Walker, of Georgia, and will be received by Senator W. J. Harris.

Dr. Joseph Jacobs, of Atlanta, writer of Dr. Long's biography and who helped him in his later experiments in painless surgery, as well as Mrs. Rebecca Latimer Felton, of Cartersville, Ga., who was United States senator for a day by appointment, the seal of the late Senator Tom Watson, will be among the speakers.

Doctors To Attend.
Responses will be made for the medical profession by Dr. Hugh H. Young, Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore; by Dr. J. G. H. Harris, of Pennsylvania, from which Dr. Long was graduated as a doctor in 1839, by Senator George Wharton Pepper, of that state; for the medical profession of Georgia by Dr. J. G. Harris, of Commerce, Ga.; for the anesthetists by Dr. William Hamilton Long, Louisville, Ky., and for the nursing profession by Miss Virginia Bibbes, Marietta, Ga.

Chief Justice Russell, as president of the board of trustees of the University of Georgia, from whom Dr. Long was graduated in 1835, will also represent that institution at the ceremony. District alumni of the University of Pennsylvania will send a committee of 12 to place a wreath at the statue.

House Votes Civil Service For Prohibition Workers; Andrews Names New Aides

Buckner and Andrews Called by Wets for Modification Hearings—Andrews Fills Two Posts.

Washington, March 20.—(AP)—Out of the continuing din and clatter of the prohibition controversy there emerged today some definite action by both congress and the administration to further reconstitute the much reconstituted enforcement machinery of the federal government.

The house passed without a record vote the bill fathered by the treasury and favored by both wets and dries to place all except the highest officers of the prohibition forces under civil service. Coincidentally, Assistant Secretary Andrews created and filled two new posts in his enforcement staff. One of the new officials will have supervision over brewery permits and the other over permits for withdrawal of wine.

Call Buckner, Andrews.
In the senate both the wets and dries held their peace while they prepared for next week's committee hearings on pending modification bills. The wets summoned Assistant Secretary Andrews and District Attorney Buckner at New York as the first witnesses to appear next Monday and promised that other distinguished personages would be asked to appear later.

Just as he was receiving the senate summons, General Andrews disclosed that he proposed to do some investigating on his own, and to that end he took him along the southern boundary to the Pacific coast and back through the chain of mountainous outposts on the edge of Canada.

The summons issued to Assistant Secretary Andrews by the senate prohibition investigators was authorized at the request of Senator Edge, republican, New Jersey. His New Jersey colleague, Senator Edwards, said he expected to call in Hudson Maxim, the inventor, still another wet, Senator Bruce, democrat, Maryland, asked that steps be taken to have a high official of the Canadian government advise the committee of the prohibition situation in Canada.

ANDREWS ANNOUNCES NEW APPOINTMENTS.
Washington, March 20.—While the house was passing the Cramton bill to place prohibition enforcement agents under civil service, Assistant Secretary Andrews was announcing the memorial association, will present, using a gavel from a mule shoe that grew near Dr. Long's office in Jefferson. This was also used at the ceremony attending the unveiling of a memorial to the late Senator Charles E. Hughes during the Washington arms conference.

NAPIER WILL ATTEND EXERCISES FOR LONG.
Attorney General George M. Napier has been named by Governor Clifford Walker to officially represent the state government at the unveiling of the statue to Dr. Crawford W. Long, distinguished Georgia discoverer of the use of anesthesia in surgical operations, which takes place in the national hall of fame in Washington, D. C., today.

The governor had intended to be present at the unveiling ceremonies himself and was listed on the program as one of the leading speakers at the exercises. However, pressure of official business prevented the chief executive from making the trip and he designated Mr. Napier in his place.

Included in the delegation of Georgians who have gone to the ceremonies are Chief Justice R. B. Russell, of the state supreme court; Dr. Frank K. Boland, Dr. Joseph Jacobs and Dr. Garrett Quillian.

The statue of Dr. Long will be the first to occupy the Georgia niche in the national hall of fame, though a movement is now on foot to unveil the carving of a statue of Alexander Stephens to occupy a place beside that of Dr. Long.

Baseball is having its most successful season in Honolulu. More than 100 teams are contesting there in about two dozen leagues in which more than 2,000 players are enrolled. Many nationalities are represented, including Portuguese, Hawaiian, Japanese, Chinese, Porto Rican, Filipino and Korean.

Further steps to reduce the leakage in the Volstead act.

He has appointed Thomas E. Stone, of Cleveland, who was influential in the recent liquor ring investigation at Cleveland as supervisor of federal brewery control.

H. Keith Weeks of Rockville Center, N. Y., was named federal supervisor of wine control. Both appointments are directed at stopping seepage in cereal beverages and wines.

Stone's recent investigation resulted in indictment of 100 alleged offenders. He will have a squad of several hundred investigators to check all stepping of the one-half of one per cent limit.

Weeks has been in charge of sacramental wine control recently.

EDGES PLAN SCORED BY SENATOR BORAH.
BY J. O'DONNELL BENNETT.
Washington, March 20.—Senator Borah, republican, of Idaho, came crashing into Senator Edge's prohibition referendum resolution this afternoon with the result that in three minutes he made it seem a mockery as hollow as he claims it is unconstitutional, even to senatorial wets.

"The American people will never get the intoxicants that some of them think they want by putting around with so-called amendments to or modifications of the national prohibition act, commonly called the Volstead act," he said.

"The constitution of the United States stands between them and any modifications of the Volstead act that give the government the right to claim that such modifications would give them what they seek is a mockery as hollow as it is unconstitutional. I know of no way that we can legislate for intoxicants so long as the constitution remains as it is."

"We can only go through the motions of legislating the prohibition of intoxicants that they are the intoxicants that the constitution forbids."

NORTH SIDE HOMES
This beautiful home in Druid Hills has recently been completed upon a hill, well drained, wooded lot, 100x600. Below there is a large sun parlor, in addition to the usual arrangement. Upstairs there is a master bedroom with dressing room and private bath, two bedrooms with connecting bath. Heat is automatic, oil-burning steam. Servants' quarters with bath. The price, $28,500, represents exactly cost.

We are offering a house on a lot over 100 feet frontage and 350 depth, this side of Pershing Point, on Peachtree Street. The house is nine-room frame, has six bedrooms and four baths. It is a good, comfortable home, and the price is so low that the ground value alone closely approximates it.
